HOPE FOR RUSS ATTENDANCE AT PARLEY VOICED

U. S. Optimistic About Jap Treaty-Making Talks Next Month.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—Despite the widening split between Russia and the western allies in Europe, American officials voiced hope today that Moscow will agree to Japanese peace treaty talks free of any big power veto.

If the Kremlin rejects the United States proposal which it now has under consideration, this government will be faced with deciding whether to go ahead with a "separate" treaty with Japan—that is, one without Soviet participation.

Unlike her position in Germany, Russia has no occupation forces in Japan and controls no Japanese territory. Hence officials here contend such a separate peace with a functioning Japanese government could be made to work.

Radical Departure

The American proposal for a veto-free conference of 11 nations to begin work on the Japanese treaty was announced yesterday. It is a radical departure from European peace-making procedures in two respects.

In the first place the conference would make decision by a two thirds vote, with or without concurring votes of the big powers.

In the second place the treaty drafting would be done not alone by the great powers but by seven other nations as well, each with a primary interest in the Japanese settlement.

The countries which the United States proposes for participation are the Big Four of the Far East—America, Britain, China, and Russia—plus the Philippines, India, Australia, New Zealand, France, the Netherlands and Canada.

Blocked Small Nations

In the case of Europe Russia flatly opposed any such wide participation and insisted that those treaties be written by the European Big Four—America, Britain, Russia and France.

Eventually, the American plan contemplates a full dress general peace conference to be attended by all of the 48 nations which were—and technically still are—at war with Japan.

But the first stage is the 11-nation meeting, which the United States suggested should open either in Washington or San Francisco on Aug. 19.

REPORT ON LIQUOR OVERSTOCKING SET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Liquor Director Dale Dunifon said today he was preparing the first detailed account of the state's "overstocked inventory" of spirits for announcement to the public tomorrow.

Dunifon, appointed director following the recent resignation of Stanley B. Cofall of Cleveland, said his account of why state liquor warehouses are bulging would far surpass figures disclosed during an investigation by a special senate committee.

"It will be very revealing and the public is entitled to know what the situation is," Dunifon said.

The reports, he explained, will show how supplies of potables zoomed from a normal inventory of about $17,000,000 last Sept. 28 to a total of $28,000,000 on Jan. 1 with an additional $13,000,000 worth of goods on order but undelivered.

Photographed copies of orders showing the dates, amounts and cost of various brands will be released to newsmen tomorrow, the director said.

The senate's special liquor investigating committee during its inquiry brought out that the state became overstocked with cordials and several slow-selling brands of other liquors during closing months of the Lausche administration.

The committee in a report said it was difficult to understand how such inventories were built up when information sales of slow-moving brands was at hand.

Dunifon said the senate committee considered reports on transactions from only a few counties, whereas tomorrow's report would be all-inclusive.

Judge Oscar Gast Dies In Columbus Hospital

Judge Oscar W. Gast, 60, of 737 South Prospect street, judge of the Marion county probate and juvenile courts for nearly 20 years, died at 4:45 p. m. yesterday in University hospital at Columbus.

Ill for the last three years, his condition became serious several weeks ago and he was removed to University hospital for treatment. His health improved and he returned home two weeks ago last Saturday. He suffered a relapse and reentered the hospital last Monday. Death was caused by gastro intestinal hemorrhages.

A native of Prospect, he was born Feb. 6, 1887, to Philip M. Gast also a native of Prospect, and Hattie C. Jelley Gast who was born in Hancock county. He was a lifelong resident of the county.

JUDGE OSCAR W. GAST

Despite his judicial responsibilities Judge Gast found time to devote to organizations for civic betterment and the welfare of humanity and was active in church, fraternal, judicial, patriotic and musical organizations of the city and county.

He took office as probate judge in February, 1929. His services as a county official began in February of 1921 when he was made a deputy clerk in the office of the late Probate Judge L. B. McNeal. Later he served as a deputy in the county auditor's office for more than a year prior to his election as probate judge.

He was prominent throughout the state in probate court circles and was recognized in the juvenile court for his interest in the laws and problems of children. One of the first persons contacted by sponsors of yesterday's soap box derby, he gave his wholehearted approval to the project expressing the belief it would create a great deal of interest among the youth of the city. Because of his illness he was unable to be a judge for the contest but was made an honorary judge by the sponsors.

Given Honor Plaque

Tribute was paid Judge Gast by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1938 when he was chosen to receive a plaque awarded annually to a man whose services to the community were deemed outstanding.

With James C. Woods, business manager of The Marion Star and the late Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young, Judge Gast was appointed by Gov. John Bricker to serve as the original Marion County Draft board at the outbreak of World War II.

He was a member of Emanuel Lutheran church, transferring his membership from St. Paul's Lutheran church at Prospect, and his fraternal affiliations were with the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges.

World War Veteran

A veteran of World War I, he served with the U. S. Coast Guard and was active in the American Legion. He held membership and was a past master of Prospect Lodge No. 444, F. & A. M., was a member of Marion Chapter No. 62, R. A. M., Marion Council No. 22, R. & S. M., Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite and Aladdin Temple of Columbus, a member and past patron of Prospect Chapter No. 69, Order of the Eastern Star, and served as the potentate's representative of Aladdin Temple in Marion county. He was for many years a member of the Aladdin Shrine band of Columbus. As a member of the Knights of Pythias he was affiliated with Durward Lodge of Prospect. In judicial circles he was a member of the State Probate Judges association.

As a legionnaire Judge Gast was a member and past commander of Verne I. Mounts Post at Prospect, and also a member and past chef de gare of Marion Voiture No. 48, 40 et 8. He was a member and past president of the Kiwanis club and a chater and life honorary member of Marion Local No. 531, American Federation of Musicians. His political affiliations were with the Republican party and he was a member of the Young Republican club of Marion county.

Judge Gast was graduated from the Prospect High school and at-

SENATE PROBES W. VA. ELECTION

Investigates Fraud Charge in Vote Which Sent Kilgore to Chamber.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—The senate rules committee launched a full-scale investigation today into charges of fraud in last fall's election of Senator Kilgore, West Virginia Democrat.

Simultaneously, Senator Kem (D-Mo) insisted that the senate itself pass on his resolution for a complete inquiry into what he has termed the justice department's failure to conduct a full investigation of alleged irregularities in the August, 1946, Kansas City primary.

The rules committee voted unanimously last night for the West Virginia probe. It involves the reelection of Kilgore, whose official margin over Tom Sweeney, the Republican nominee, was 3,534 votes out of a total of more than a half million.

Kilgore Keeps Silence

Kilgore's aides said he had no immediate comment.

The committee declared "it appears from x x x preliminary investigation that vote frauds, election irregularities, and the purchase of votes were prevalent" in the West Virginia election.

A subcommittee headed by Senator Jenner (R-Ind) recommended the general inquiry after a spot check in two counties. It will be conducted in 12 counties cited by Sweeney in his complaint—Boone, Cabell, Fayette, Kanawha, Logan, Mercer, Munroe, McDowell, Raleigh, Wayne and Wyoming.

40 Per Cent of Votes

Forty per cent of the votes in the state were cast in the 12 counties.

The committee will push the work immediately.

Jenner announced that Nelson

Ringling Circus To Show At Crystal Lake Park Tomorrow

(More about circus on page 19)

Tomorrow, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus comes to town on its four long railroad trains of 100 seventy-foot cars, for two performances at the Crystal Lake park on the Bucyrus road. The location was changed from the Drake lot on Fairground street because of the wet condition of the showgrounds.

Activity started at the showgrounds today where the 24-hour man, Charlie Shepherd, that busiest of agents, is making the lot and its approaches ready for the crowds which are anticipated for tomorrow's performances at 3:15 and 8:15 p. m., with doors open at 2 and 7 p. m.

Plenty of Work

The 24-hour man is also concerned with the unloading grounds from which the cavalcade of "the Greatest Show on Earth" will haul to the circus lot after dozens of dapple-gray horses and hundreds of big top veterans have, tomorrow morning, unloaded the four double-length trains. It must have the crushing task planned for hundreds of hungry the nine herds of elephants, the camels and zebras and see that all supplies—coal, wood, stock-feed, vegetables, fruits, bread, fuel-oil, eggs, water, meats, etc.—must be on the lot and ready for the show's cookhouse and dining department, which feeds over 1,400 people. The cookhouse is the first unit to arrive.

Such items as hay, straw, coke, etc., he has delivered today, but the bulk of the supplies is delivered with show day's dawn.

Previous Reception

The circus supplies, of course, are contracted for weeks ahead. All supplies are produced in the home plant.

OHIO WELFARE BUILDING PLANS TO BE CHANGED

Director Says High Costs of Construction Make Revise Necessary.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Rigid revamping of the state welfare department's construction program because of rising costs was forecast today by Director Charles L. Sherwood.

With $36,000,000 available for repairs, renovation and new construction through 1948, Sherwood claims the department won't exceed previously arranged budgets for any project.

Rather than build units of specific sizes, he said, the amount of money on hand would determine the end result.

For example, bidding soon will start on a hospital at the Apple Creek state school which the department wants to build for $1,700,000 but which responsible officials are betting gets a low bid of more than $3,000,000.

Reduce Bed Estimate

Sherwood said that the department's approach would be that the Apple Creek hospital, originally slated as a 500-bed hospital, now would contain only as many beds as $1,700,000 would buy.

By adhering to this plan for all projects, Sherwood said he was determined to spend all the money his department had been appropriated.

"I don't want to have to go again before the legislature with hundreds of thousands unspent because we couldn't buy exactly what we wanted with the money we had," he said.

The welfare department's biennium picture looks like this:

Reappropriated—Money appropriated for 1945-1946 but not spent—$21,991,000.

Emergency power plant appropriation $3,376,700.

New appropriations $12,300,000.

From reappropriated funds, the department plans to spend these amounts:

Athens state hospital $790,000; Cleveland state hospital $250,000; Columbus state hospital $526,500; Dayton state hospital $507,000; Cuyahoga county receiving hospital $726,000; Summit county receiving hospital $476,000.

Hawthornden state hospital $3,660,000; Lima state hospital $52,500; Longview state hospital $2,045,000; Massillon state hospital $75,000; Youngstown receiving hospital $80,836; Toledo state hospital $121,881.19; Gallipolis state institute $554,500; Tiffin state hospital $750,000; Columbus state school $50,000.

Orient state school $575,000; Apple Creek state school $4,561,500; Girls' Industrial School at Delaware $115,000; new state penitentiary; London prison farm $90,000; Lebanon state farm $20,000; Ohio State reformatory at Mansfield $280,000; Osborne state farm $35,000; Grafton state farm $120,000; Ohio Reformatory for

Greeks Pursue Battered Reds

Government Reports Troops in Hot Pursuit of Beaten Guerrilla Force.

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, July 17—Greek government troops were reported in hot pursuit today of battered guerrilla forces retreating northeastward parallel to the Albanian border after an abortive attempt to capture the city of Ionnina, capital of Epirus.

The withdrawing guerrillas—main body of a force of some 2,500 men which the government said earlier this week had launched an invasion from Albania—was believed attempting to make a junction with other leftists fighting in the Grammos mountain range.

Loyalists Get Jump

Reports from the front, however, suggested that government troops had anticipated the move and were taking steps to prevent a junction of the two forces.

The guerrilla retreat followed the launching of a full-scale assault late yesterday by reinforced government troops, who earlier had halted the invasion thrust near the village of Negradhes, about 18 miles north of Ioannina.

The way for the attack was paved by a heavy artillery bombardment of guerrilla forces in an area including the villages of Kato, Pedina, Ano Elatorohi, Paleolouta and Asprangelos, scattered along the slopes of Mt. Gamila.

War Planes Attack

Greek war planes supported the attacking government forces by strafing guerrilla positions.

The only serious resistance was reported in Elatorhori and Asprangelos, where more than 300 guerrillas were said to have been wiped out.

Military sources said that government troops quickly followed up the guerrilla withdrawal and were eliminating rearguard units left to cover the retreat.

AUTO LOOTERS GET BOOTY WORTH $1,000

Mink Furs Among Property Stolen from Three Cars.

Two automobiles belonging to guests at Hotel Harding, parked at the rear of the hotel and another parked nearby and belonging to a resident of near Morral were ransacked last night and property valued at over $1,000 stolen, the police reported today.

The largest loss was that of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ashworth of New Bedford, Mass. Mr. Ashworth, a salesman, was registered for the week at the hotel while working in Marion territory. Mrs. Ashworth, who had accompanied him on the trip, said all the clothes either of them had besides those they were wearing were taken from the car. The itemized list of stolen goods she made for the police totaled $870, police said. The list included four mink fur pieces, dresses, slacks and men's clothing.

The car was parked on Holmes place. The ventilator glass on the side had been broken to gain entrance. The car was a gray Ford coach.

Another salesman registered at the hotel, S. J. Balle of Chicago, had parked his car on Cortland street near Church about midnight. Glass in the ventilator had also been broken on this car to gain entrance, police said. Galion Chicken Has "Extra" Drumstick

By Special to The Star

GALION, July 17—The high cost of living would be reduced considerably if there were more roosters with three drumsticks like the one which the Galion Produce Co. has in its store on Harding Way West, here.

Because of his freakish appearance, the cocky Buff Orpington rooster's life was saved when he was discovered by Frank Wolcott, a partner of the produce company, who was preparing to dress the chickens he had bought from farmers.

Somehow, Wolcott, who buys chickens throughout the state and in Indiana, had unknowingly collected the rooster with a group he bought from a farmer. The rooster has two normal legs on which he stands and walks as other chickens, but a third leg, complete with drumstick and normal foot, protrudes from the right hip of the chicken, and on first glance

FEW UNFILLED JOBS REPORTED

Ohio and Marion Employment Office Put Figure at Lowest Point in 2 Years.

While the Ohio state employment service reported the lowest number of unfilled job openings throughout the state in two years at the end of June, according to an Associated Press dispatch today, the Marion office of the OSES showed a similar situation.

Though figures for the local office are available only from January, 1946, the June total of 68 was the lowest since then. In June last year there were 106 unfilled positions. This represents a 34 per cent drop from June, 1946, to June, 1947, and a 52 per cent drop from May of this year when there were 142 unfilled positions.

Placements made by the Marion office remained nearly the same, 228 being made in May and 226 in June, in contrast to the state in general, which reported a sharp drop in the number of persons hired. In line with trends throughout the state was the number of jobs filled by persons under 21 years of age. The figure here jumped from 51 in April to 85 in June. The increase was thought to be a result of the return of college students seeking summer employment, and high school graduates entering the labor market for the first time.

LIST STREETS IN RESOLUTION

Both Business District and Residential Areas of City Affected.

Marion sidewalks, many of them in a state of disrepair for a number of years, will soon be improved as a result of action taken Wednesday night by city council. Council adopted a resolution for construction and repair of sidewalks in the business and residential districts which have become badly worn through normal use or have been broken by passage of vehicles.

Some walks in the downtown area have been in place more than half a century, and in many places have been worn concave by the feet of many pedestrians. These hollowed out stones have acted as catch basins for rain, causing a hazard during wet weather in the summer and during cold weather when ice formed in the hollows. In other places broken stones have changed position enough to present a serious stumbling hazard.

At a council meeting several weeks ago, when the measure was first discussed, Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher was authorized to make a survey of walks and determine those most in need of immediate repair. The results of his survey provided the list of walks specifically named in the resolution.

Notices to be Mailed

The resolution requires that the clerk of council send written notices to owners or their agents. According to the general code, if walks are not repaired by owners, the work will be done by the city, and costs charged in added taxes on the properties abutting on the walks.

Also stipulated in the resolution is that walks must be constructed of sandstone, concrete or other approved materials, and according to specifications and plans on file in the office of the city engineer.

The resolution was passed as an emergency measure to become effective on the date of its passage.

List of Streets

Sections of sidewalk specifically in the resolution include:

Both sides of Center street between Orchard street and the first alley east of State street.

Both sides of Main street between Mill street and the first alley south of Church street.

The east side of Prospect street between Church street and Columbia street.

The west side of Park boulevard between Darius and McKinley streets.

The south side of McKinley between Miami street and Park boulevard.

Both sides of Henry street between Congress street and Woodrow avenue.

The south side of Sugar street between Davids and Mound streets.

The west side of Davids street between Bellefontaine avenue and Broad street.

The west side of Senate street between Hocking and Silver streets.

The east side of Thompson street between Reese and Evans streets.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 50 E. Sterling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

Apply Now, VA Advises Prospective Students

World War II veterans who expect to enter college for the first time this fall under educational provisions of the GI Bill should make application to the Veterans Administration as soon as possible.

VA Branch Office officials in Columbus today cited three important steps to be followed by veterans who plan to enter school for the first time since their release from service:

1. The veteran should go to his nearest VA office, educational institution or one of the various service organizations and obtain VA Form 1950, which is the application for education and training under the GI Bill. VA or the other agencies will assist him in filling out this application.

2. The application, together with a certified or photostatic copy of the veteran's discharge paper, should be sent to the VA regional office having jurisdiction over the territory in which the veteran resides. In Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky these offices are located in Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Louisville. If married, the veteran also should submit a county clerk of court copy of his marriage certificate in order to claim additional subsistence allowance for a dependent. The regional office will process the application and determine the amount of education and training to which the veteran is entitled. If qualified, the veteran will receive a certificate of eligibility.

3. The veteran should present the certificate of eligibility to the school or training establishment at the time of his enrollment. The institution will complete the certificate and return it to the appropriate VA regional office, which then may authorize payment of subsistence allowance to the veteran.

Veterans unable to attend larger universities because of overcrowded conditions are advised by VA to check the possibilities of enrollment in smaller colleges where vacancies may be available.

VA Social Workers Aid Disabled Vets

A trained staff of social service workers employed by the Veterans Administration determines that hospitalized war veterans are not cast adrift upon their recovery and release from VA hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

Follow-through contact with veterans who have been hospitalized is maintained by social workers from VA or from some appropriate civilian agency. One of the major aims of social service is to prevent cases of relapse and rehospitalization.

When a veteran with a service-connected disability is ready for release from a VA hospital, he is interviewed by a social worker, who then notifies the VA regional office nearest the veteran's home. In cases of veterans with non-service connected disabilities, the appropriate civilian agency is notified.

Follow-through contact then is made to check on the veteran's welfare and to provide him assistance.

Social workers assist veterans who are disabled by injury or disease to adjust difficulties or lacks in their social relationships when personal problems are blocking their progress toward health and rehabilitation. Veterans are assisted in using their potential abilities and the medical, vocational rehabilitation and other benefits available to them through the VA and community resources.

VA social service activities in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky are supervised by James W. Grant, Chief of Social Service for the VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus.

VA now has 92 trained social workers in the three states, including 50 in Ohio.

Extend Deadlines for NSLI Reinstatements

Veterans Administration has announced that the liberal reinstatement privileges now in effect for National Service Life Insurance will be extended to January 1, 1948.

Until this announcement was made, World War II veterans who had let their wartime NSLI term policies lapse for a period of more than three months had only to August 1 to reinstate them without generally having to take a physical examination.

VA said the deadline was extended to give every former policyholder more time to take advantage of picking up his government insurance by simply certifying that he is in as good health as he was at the time of lapse and executing the required application.

Only two monthly premiums must accompany an application for reinstatement of term insurance. During the past five months more than $00,000 veterans reinstated policies offering upwards of three and one-half billion dollars of insurance protection.

In the first heat of the semi-finals in which he competed against other heat winners, he clocked 33 4-5 seconds to win. The same time was recorded in the final heat of the semi-finals. The run-off for the city championship was against McCreight, winner of the junior division.

Both junior and senior winners will be given a paid trip to compete in the Columbus district meet on Aug. 2.

Cars Show Ingenuity

The drivers all wore the official gold colored helmets with the soapbox insignia of crossed signal flags on the front. The cars cleverly constructed, some with oil cloth coverings, others wood, aluminum and cloth covered. All were tagged with the number given them.

The judges stand was placed in the center of Columbia street but the racers coasted 150 feet or more after passing the Columbia street finishing line before coming to a stop.

The first plan of returning heat winners through a back route was abandoned because of the extended interval between races. The boys later pushed their racers back up the race stretch before the next lap was due to run.

Prizes were awarded by Robert Axe, announcer for the race and Jack Hanley, track manager.

Lowell Schlecht received a bicycle as senior winner, a football as winner of the preliminary heat and a complete fishing tackle outfit for having the fastest track time.

David McCreight recieved a bicycle as junior winner, and a football for winning the preliminary heat.

The trophy cup which stands about 18 inches high is gold with a black base. A miniature racer and driver tops a gold colored bowl. A miniature award which the winner will keep permanently is a gold figure of victory on a black base, standing about 10 inches high. The cup will be displayed in the winner's classroom at Harding High school where Lowell is a sophomore, until next year's winner is named.

Awarding of Trophies

The two trophies will be awarded at a Lions club luncheon at Hotel Harding in the near future. All other prizes were awarded yesterday afternoon. At that meeting a motion picture film taken by one of the Lions throughout the entire affair will be shown. The film will show the boys at work constructing their cars as well as portions of the race yesterday.

Judges were Mayor Harry L. Dowler and Paul D. Smith, common pleas judge. William E. Marks, police chief, was official starter, Owen A. Silfritt, fire chief, was flagger at the finish line, and Sheriff LeRoy Retterer was time keeper.

Portions of the race was broadcast over WMRN, co-sponsor with the Lions club. Dr. Daniel Murphy was chairman of the committee in charge.

HEARING ON COUNTY BUDGET HELD TODAY

1948 Expenditures Estimated To Be $83,344 Below Income.

Public hearing on the Marion county budget for 1948 was held this morning in the office of the county commissioners.

For the next calendar year the budget lists estimated receipts of $400,930.53 and estimated expenditures of $317,586. The budget estimates a balance will be left on hand Dec. 31, 1948, of $83,344.53.

Of the total estimated receipts $170,000 will come from general property tax and the remainder from other sources of income such as office fees, gasoline and automobile license tax, sales tax, etc.

The estimated general property tax figure is the same as the expected income from this source this year.

Estimated total receipts for next year are slightly below the figure of $418,802.89 for this year. Estimated expenditures also show a decline from the $317,586 for this year. The Dec. 31, 1947, balance is estimated to be $96,330.53.

Estimated receipts and cost of operation for the various county offices and departments show little change from this year.

Attending the hearing were representatives of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

William R. Evans, tax analyst for the Ohio Chamber, and Ira C. Korst, local tax relations representative of the Ohio Chamber, both of Columbus, commended the commissioners on their economical operation of the county departments by keeping expenditures well within the estimated income. They made minor recommendations for savings.

Present as representatives of the Marion Chamber were Jack Fostr, Walter D. Moore, John Dowler and H. E. Webster, secretary.

32 Ford Foremen Fired For Acts of Terrorism

By The United Press

DETROIT, July 17—The Ford Motor Company today discharged 32 foremen accused of "acts of violence and terrorism" during the recent 47-day strike of the Foremen's Association of America.

John S. Bugas, Ford vice president and director of industrial relations, said the 32 foremen were dismissed "following a hearing and after careful investigation of verified reports by members of company supervision, who were attacked when they refused to leave their jobs."

He said it was "all the disciplinary action that is contemplated" and reiterated that "no discrimination of any kind will be shown against anyone for legal participation in the foremen's strike."

60,000,000 Jobs, So What?

SOME years ago Henry Wallace wrote a book about the plans the government would have to adopt to assure 60,000,000 jobs by 1950. That goal has been reached much sooner than he anticipated and without some of the measures he advocated, for, as of last month, national civilian employment was 60,055,000 jobs.

Of themselves, soaring employment figures aren't the measure of a nation's economic stability. Russia has fuller employment than we do, yet, according to the U. S. labor department, food prices there have gone up 166 per cent since last September while wages have risen only 25 per cent.

The goal Wallace envisioned still stands, however. Job graphs can drop as well as rise and 1950 is a good country mile down the road. While traveling longitudinally in the next 30 months, the line on the chart may also cover quite a bit of distance vertically.

"Of Desperate Urgency"

THE PRESIDENT'S message to congress Wednesday emphasizes as sharply as words can the need for immediate and decisive action to control the Mississippi valley floods. "It is a problem of desperate urgency," he says.

These recurrent floods are disasters which the nation has faced complacently far too long. After the flood of 1927, Army engineers began control plans for the lower Mississippi valley. These surveys have gone forward steadily along the Mississippi and its principal tributaries so that now virtually all the necessary specifications are on paper. A few regional authorities, such as the Muskingum, have transformed plans into reality. The President now proposes a 10-year program, to be started immediately, to put the rest into effect. To start the work, congress will receive a supplemental appropriation request for $250,000,000 for the fiscal year.

Flood control will be integrated with water conservation and erosion prevention over an area comprising nearly half the nation. It will be a worthwhile undertaking, for the economy of preventing floods as compared with the damage they wreak has been amply demonstrated. Since 1936 more than $1,000,000,0000 damage has been caused by flood, in the midwest, while the cost in lives and inroads on our health and prosperity are beyond computing.

The President says: "We must never forget that conservation of our natural resources and their wise use are essential to our very existence as a nation. The choice is ours. We can sit idly by—or almost as bad, resort to the false economy of feeble and inadequate measures—while these precious assets waste away. On the other hand, we can, "if we act in time, put into effect a realistic and practical plan which will preserve these basic essentials of our national economy and make this a better and a richer land."

World War III

THE legitimate Greek government at Athens denies that forces engaged in border incidents have any connection with any other government; i.e., the legitimate Greek government denies that the Kremlin is the guiding hand behind the guerrillas.

All other official sources will practice similar caution. No one will know anything about anything, except that opposing groups of armed men are firing on each other with intent to kill. Whatever anyone wants to say that is, it's war.

It could be World War III—a tentative beginning. The Spanish civil war 10 years ago was the tentative beginning of World War II. A weakly-defended country, Spain, became the battleground for opposing groups of armed men firing on each other with intent to kill. That was war, even though at the time it was called many other things. Official sources were cautious in the presence of what they knew was acute danger.

Their words became unimportant. Actions told the story. In connection with events in Greece, land armies and naval forces are being deployed for the purpose of defending and attacking a country. The forces are being equipped and directed, at least in part, from points outside Greece. World War III may have started this week as inconspicuously as World War II started a decade ago.

Peace Somewhere

IT'S DIFFICULT to keep track of what goes on in Indonesia. From this distance the issues are obscure and the names of people and places involved are polysyllabic, hard to remember, difficult to pronounce.

Essentially, though, prospects appear bright for the Dutch and the Indonesian republican cabinet reconciling their defferences and putting into effect the linggadjati agreement for rule of the territory. Original differences over the establishment of a Dutch-Indonesian constabulary have been settled. The Dutch say the native leaders are negotiating "with much evidence of good will."

One of the most successful of prewar colonial powers, the Dutch, by making important concessions, stand in a good way to settle the difficulties in their distant colony.

How Will Lewis' Union Socialism Plan Work?

WASHINGTON, July 17—Union big man John Lewis' new coal economy for another bigger round of prices and wage increases seems to have some economic relation to a new brand of socialism advocated by the AFL economic survey for July. The survey howls in top headline: "High Prices Threaten Workers' Jobs and Living Standards." Then at the end it furnishes what it calls "the way out."

The way out, says the AFL, is "consumer cooperation" and it adds: "Consumer cooperation means cooperative ownership of a business. Every member is a part-owner . . . We must start at once to organize as consumers . . . We cannot afford to wait . . . Write the Federation for information on cooperatives and credit unions and names of official representatives of these two movements to advise you."

Defined As Socialism

Now let's see. Let's understand this. Consumer cooperation is cooperative ownership of a business, Eh? that, of course, is socialism. Moreover, it is a different advanced type of socialism than that which the British unions have imposed on Britain. The British government bought the business there with government bonds, and as is the normal case when the government owns anything, no one owns it. A union member would find this out if he tried to get his share of the business.

This new AFL socialism is not state socialism but union ownership. The unions start factories for shoes, clothing or even automobiles, maybe. Immediately this breaks its own union monopoly of the work in the privately owned shoe, clothing or automobile factory. In work and price then, AFL would compete with its own members, for the purpose of underselling them and making their business unprofitable. If AFL was successful, their members would lose the private ownership jobs they have now.

Now the high prices of which they complain are certainly too high. But one reason they are high is because AFL has forced greater wage increases on the management (really the public) every year for the last few years. Every wage increase they got forced another price increase. They have discovered that due to the high prices they have caused, the union worker frequently is really no better off economically than before wage increases. So now AFL comes up with a plan to own the business. Lewis of course has just increased costs and prices again by an inestimable hundreds of millions of dollars a year with his latest jump of 45 cents an hour, plus a private union tax of 10 cents on every ton of coal, and many more privileges.

If Lewis succeeds in making the coal business unprofitable, he could really buy it cheap, because no one would want it. But instead of the miners getting more money, then they would get much less because their business made no money.

England's Experience

When the union government got the businesses in England, the first thing they did was to up wages again. This increased prices again. But still they could not get production. Socialist England had to borrow money from us and now is trying to borrow more to buy from us things she should be producing for herself. One such thing is coal. She has plenty underground but her socialism will not produce it at the low price which the Socialists are always promising but never get.

AFL does not want this. AFL knows this clearly would cause reduction in wages and working conditions from our high level capitalistic economy. But AFL wants to start her own socialism by starting cooperative factories to compete with their own high wage scale both in work and cheaper prices. If anyone else did this, AFL would strike, picket and outlaw them, realizing they would ruin the union monopoly of work. But she wants to do this herself, break the price she has largely caused and thus also the work, which she monopolizes.

Is this the way out? Or the way in, deeper and deeper.

A Parrot with Man Fever?

Ornithologists are studying the strange case of a Kansas City parrot who keeps saying over and over, "This country is going to hell!"

Probably just a Republican.

In fact, he may even be running for congress. Certainly he wouldn't be the first bird elected on that familiar old refrain.

Of course, fellow residents of Kansas City, with a favorite son in the White House, are endeavoring to minimize the phenomenon by saying that it isn't a parrot at all, but merely a stool pigeon in disguise.

Yes sir, this cage-dwelling Jeremiah is the biggest thing in bird circles since Poe's Raven took the pledge. And small wonder. The spectacle of a parrot, especially a Missouri parrot, repeating "This country is going to hell!" is admittedly impressive. For outside their taste in pin-feathers, parrots are pretty conservative.

Indeed, during all the hysteria of recent weeks, there has been no single instance, so far as I can determine, of a parrot reporting seeing a saucer in the sky.

In Russian Prison Camps

German POW's Work With Ex-Generals and Factory Heads.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN, July 17—German prisoners of war recently returned from Russia and interrogated by official American sources said that in the prison camps of the Soviet Union they had worked alongside Russians up to the rank of general and factory manager.

These Russians, they said, were being kept in political confinement because they had worked in Germany and there had "seen too much and had been infected with western civilization."

The Germans questioned were former prisoners who were released by the Russians in such poor physical condition that they had to be placed in hospitals or rehabilitation camps in the U. S. occupation zone before they could be repatriated in western Germany.

They arrived, the official report said, "usually in rags worn for many years and absolutely filthy." With them they brought an "opposition toward the German Communist party that was more than outspoken."

Russian Food Bad

The recuperating returnees said food was very bad for the prisoners as well as for most of the Russians.

"Many worked in the area of Katharinenburg (Sverdlovsk), east of the Urals," the interrogators' report said, "some in factories, others in state domains with Russian prisoners who ranged from private to former general, from worker to former plant manager. The whole area was described as an enormous concentration camp the size of Germany.

"Most Russian political prisoners had been prisoners of the Germans and had worked in Germany. They were sent to this exile because, so the returnees state, they had seen too much and had been infected with western civilazation. Germans and Russians alike were paid on a piece-work basis and fed according to output. In most cases it was impossible to fill the work quota without long training and more modern machinery.

Renegades are Guards

"The PW cages were under the direct supervision of German 'anti-fascists' who enjoyed the confidence of the Russians and, in return, were more hated than the Russians. They reported everything to the Russian camp authorities in order to gain privileges. They held lectures every other day to train PW's in Communism and every other Sunday Russian officers arrived to do likewise.

"The PW's were told that, while their present sorry state and the fate of Germany were the fault of the Nazis, the capitalistic countries—above all Great Britain and the United States—were delaying the unification of Germany and endangering the peace of the world."

The returned Germans said that it was their observation that "the Russians—especially the older generation—were conscious of the fact that they were living under a dictatorship and that opposition meant jail, exile, starvation or death."

The Germans' report on Russia continued: "corruption and favoritism in Russia reached enormous proportions. There were fine department stores for members of the Communist party, lesser for the rich, mediocre stores for ordinary workers. For the last two categories everything was sold at fantastic prices.

One former prisoner said that a number of mines in the Urals were completely under the management of German engineers and and another said that most of the 85,0000 to 90,000 workers employed in the tractor factory in Stalingrad were prisoners of war.

Seeing Saucers

Reports of strange objects flying through the heavens aren't new. Last year the Swedish Air Force had more than 50,000 such reports. Undoubtedly many Swedes did see Russian rockets launched from the old German experimental station at Peenemunde, but Swedish officers discounted 90 per cent as reports from high-strung people with "me-too" complexes.

Some people could look into the heavens and see blue-plate luncheons wheeling in formation if they really set their minds to it. According to Dr. Henry R. Evans of the Society of Psychial Research, plenty of healthy, sane persons can induce hallucinatory visions by sky-gazing, crystal-gazing, or even looking at a highly polished fingernail or a drop of ink.

Among the sane, Dr. Evans says, the hallucinatory object is recognized as unreal. Only in the psychotic, or a person under hypnosis, does the vision persist as a real object.

The late Harry Houdini, in his investigations of psychic frauds, observed that most practitioners of these dubious sciences had their subjects gaze into highly polished surfaces. This induced a state of hypnosis in which the subjects could see distant unfamilar scenes, moving objects or whatever they were told to see.

Daily Bible Thought

This will happen when the devil of racial pride and lust for unbridled power is chained. When nations become willing to obey and enforce moral laws: "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."—Isa. 2:4.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, July 17, 1937.

Marion county crops and fields were sodden, the result of a "rain" wave which supplanted the heat wave of the preceding 10 days. The spectacular electrical storm swept the city and county the preceding night and was accompanied by high winds which flattened corn and other crops and delayed wheat harvest, which had reached the threshing stage. A .95 of an inch rainfall brought the total for the preceding eight days to 2.73 inches.

Edward R. Sawyer of Silver street, well known among city softball players and fans, was burned by hot asphalt while on a roofing job at the Defiance Pressed Steel Co. plant.

Eugene Willey, Marion county sanitarian in the county health office, returned from Chicago, where he attended a week's conference of county, state and city milk officials, sanitarians and inspectors in areas of more than 15 states.

Miss Iscah Rhodes, a teacher in the Cleveland Heights schools, was guest of Mrs. J. T. Matthews of East Center street.

Donald Hedges of south of Prospect was host when the 1929 graduating class of the Prospect High school entertained for Mr. baseball team, the Homestead weds.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 17, 1927.

Nicola Sacco and Bartolomew Vanzetti, Communists convicted and sentenced to the electric chair on charges of murder in connection with a payroll holdup, went on a hunger strike at Charleston, Mass., state prison in protest against methods employed by Gov. Alvin T. Fuller, who was investigating their cases.

Christian churches held their annual tri-county meeting at Garfield park and elected officers headed by Rev. C. W. Perry of Kirkpatrick as president.

Burglars broke into the Park View restaurant on West Center street and stole a box containing $19.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Orians of North Seffner avenue left for Arcadia, Wis. to attend the wedding of their son, Rev. Howard L. Orians and Miss Marian Senty of Arcadia.

Pittsburgh's famous colored baseball team, the Homestead Grays, defeated the Marion Athletics at Lincoln park 18-8. Main and Reese pitched for Marion and Williams for the Grays.

Between Two Worlds

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE stupendous gamble of two worlds is on. Russia's theorists in the Kremlin have decreed it. They have made their decision, because they believe the future belongs to them and to their dogmatic pattern of progress. They believe communism is modern, vital and fitted to the future. They also believe capitalism and democracy, which are rallying in Paris, are outmoded, fading antiques. We shall see which world conforms to the inexorable laws of growth. And, I believe, we can see the issue resolve without war.

A great doubt must rise over the Soviet claim. For it is based on an economic principle which denies the fact of modern life, thought and scientific progress. It is based on the theory that a nation, or a more or less regionalized group of nations, can be self-sufficient enough to meet the conscious needs of its people.

But no iron curtain, no censorship, however, rigorous, or elaborate indoctrination can blot out from peasants and workers the basic facts of modern life. They know too much already to be re-educated. They know that science and mechanical inventions can lighten man's burden and provide more good things with which to live. They know that goods or parts of goods can be carried from nation to nation and combined with what there is at home, to produce the means of a fuller, richer life.

What They Know

Peasants and workers know dimly, and their rulers know all too well, that a mysterious force called "capital" is used to move things, to assemble them and to make them tools for living. Large numbers will know, despite every effort toward isolation, that some people in some countries have more good things than others.

This knowledge is made more ample when, as in the present instance, there are bridges between the East and West which cannot be blown up. Hungarians and Yugoslavs are aware of their traditional trading with Italy. The heart of Finland's culture has been brought from the West—economic knowledge as well as political ideals. Sweden, now measurably aligned with the West, has agreements with Russia by which critically necessary machinery and other items move into Soviet territory. Poland is constantly making deals with England and Scandinavia for coal machinery.

Not Forgotten

The most important bridge of all is Czechoslovakia. No eastern European people has more cultural affinity with the West. Democracy has been a religion for the Czechs, and it is not a forgotten religion. Only geography makes this little country a member of the Eastern Bloc. Russia looks to the Czechs for modern goods, as it does to Sweden. But these machine-shop countries are too small to transform the monstrous Russian area.

There are also great reaches which lean neither toward Russia nor the West. The Soviet has been less active in pushing into the Mongolian world. Perhaps that is because there would be small point in adding to the aleady undeveloped Russian territory great areas which are still more primitive. India, with her political ties loosened, still leans toward Britain. The Arabian world—its intentions hidden as always—sits and waits.

We Shall See

The test is on. Time will decide whether an economic and cultural world can be created by a set of dogmatic political principles. The forces of science—the mechanics — are not political, but they are always on the march. We shall see whether the political systems of the West or those of the East prove a more favorable medium for growth.

We of the West can afford the test which is now dramatized in Paris.

New Light on Lincoln

Documents To Be Released This Month.

JULY 26 will be a red-letter day in the lives of American historians, especially those who concentrate on Lincoln lore. This is the date on which the private papers of Abraham Lincoln will be available for inspection for the first time. They are the property of the Library of Congress.

The collections includes at least 108 items not available to Nicolay and Hay for their life of Lincoln. The documents were given to the library in 1923 by Robert Todd Lincoln, the president's son, who was dissuaded from destroying them by Nicholas Murray Butler and others. Lincoln's son finally agreed to deed them to the library with the provision they wouldn't be made public until 21 years after his death. The 21 years is up July 26.

The papers haven't been available because, as Lincoln's son said in the deed, they "contain many references of a private nature to the immediate ancestors of persons now living, which, in my judgment, should not be made public . . ." Another reason was that the younger Lincoln didn't want the material to fall into the hands of the late Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who at that time was planning a Lincoln biography.

The original deed included the suggestion that certain of the papers not be published. In a modification of the original deed made shortly before Robert Todd Lincoln's death the suggestion wasn't renewed. It hasn't been disclosed whether all or only some of the papers will be published.

More has been written about Lincoln than about any other president, yet a great deal remains untold and there are hundreds of points on which historians disagree. These papers may help clarify disputed points.

There is no mortal truly wise and restless at once: wisdom is the repose of minds.—Lavater.

Lines to a Tenement Brick

(Marking the removal of buildings on New York's East Side for the UN headquarters, the first brick was torn from a building at First avenue and 42d street at ceremonies in New York."—News Item.

Brick, pardon my staring!...
I'm taking a good look at you...
You fascinate me; you make me wonder....
I have seen many a brick in my time....
They are no novelty to me,
But you are the Brick of the Year....
You may even be the Brick of Social significance!

The first brick torn from
An East Side tenement to make way for Temples of Peace!
Wotta brick!
You may symbolize a glorious age...
Or just add to the general snafu....
You may mark world order.
Brotherly love and understanding...
Or merely be a moment in a newsreel!

You can be a brick with socko....
The brick thrown at Old Man Mars....
The brick that conked War Lords for all time!
You can be the city brick.
That made good on a global basis!

For years you were just another brick
Among the millions in East Side tenements....
You knew misery, suffering, struggle....
Joy and sadness....
You were just a run-of-the-mill brick—
And now look at you!

Yanked from obscurity to fame.....
Hauled from insignificance to prestige....
Thrust from a riverfront ruin
Into the blinding light of global distinction!

Brick, you intrigue me....
Whisked from the smells of tenement kitchens,
Delicatessens and abattoirs—
To the perfume of global planners—
The aroma of diplomatic waltzing....
I can hear you ask, "What's cookin'?"

I think you should be preserved....
Filed away for symbolic considerations....
The First Brick from the old could be
The first brick in the new!

Just a tenement brick my eye!....
When they pried you from that wall
The crowbar was opening a new era...
Dedicating you to a great cause...
Paving the way for a Citadel of Peace!

Brick, I salute you!...
You can be the stone in David's sling...
The one that slew Goliath
You're a forecast of hope...
An omen for less dying!

Or maybe a brick is just a brick....
I wouldn't be sure....
But I'm bettin' on you....
A brick out of the East Side is rugged....
It's got character....
It is used to trouble and hard going....
May the UN and the new world planners
Have as much!

A Lot of Other Names

By TRUMAN TWILL

Middle-aged friends of ours enjoying a meal out of a recent evening were flabbergasted when their waitress, meaning to be friendly, asked, "Do you kids want more coffee?" They did not, be it to their credit, reply, "No thanks, girlie."

Whatever this may have reflected on training for her job, it marked the waitress as a member of a conversational school in this country that never outgrows the kid stage. Members of this school believe in addressing all comers as kids even when the comers are 80 and walking on crutches.

This is only the postgraduate division of the school that says all fellows and gals shall continue to be fellows and gals, even though they have been men and women for a third of a century. Thus, we have middle-aged females attending hen parties with the rest of the "gals" and tired businessmen "going out with the fellows," both pursuing the illusion of youth.

At the other extreme, however, youth is pursuing the illusion of age, and Boy Scouts are addressing one another as "men," which is just as ridiculous. No doubt Girl Scouts, under similar circumstances, call one another ladies.

Speaking of ladies, where does the notion come from that a group of female persons always must be referred to by this hoity-toity, unnatural expression, which is a corny substitute for the only proper title of address for a group of female persons—"women." Likewise, while more than one male person may be called "gentlemen," they had better be referred to on the safe side as "men," which is probably all they are.

Pullman porters are gradually getting somewhere with their fight to prove their names are not George, but where do filling-station attendants get the idea that male customers should be addressed as "Sir," which usually is an insult the way they use it?

And where did anyone get the idea that a man whose name isn't known will feel better about being a stranger if accosted as "Buddy," "Bud" or "Mack"? Also, isn't it about time something was done about "gents" when used as a substitute for "gentlemen." Either we are, or we ain't. Let's not be coy.

But we are not kids, fellows, girlies, gals, buddies, sweethearts, or members of royalty. Somewhere about the age of 20, we all tend to become members of two large and flourishing groups in society known as men and women. There is nothing to be ashamed of in this. Men and women can't be offended because someone calls them what they are. By a lot of other names they don't feel any better about it.

Davis, from the industrial suburb of Fairfield, Ala., was described by Hayes as a "classy fielder and fine player."

JOBS

an office reported. Of the total for May 133 were women, 106 of the male applicants were veterans. In June 132 women applied for jobs, and 164 veterans sought employment. The increase of veterans was also thought to be a result of the end of the school year, with many veterans returning home to seek employment for the summer months. The total number of job seekers listed with the Marion office was 740 in June compared to 640 in May, an increase of 13.6 per cent.

State Situation

In the state the 14,295 unfilled openings June 30 was a drop of 32 per cent from May 31, and in the same period there was an eight per cent drop in job placements. Three-fifths of the loss in placements was in domestic service and metal manufacturing industries.

There was a 43 per cent jump in the number of jobs filled by youth under 21 in Ohio—a development incidental to summer recess of classes and hiring for fruit picking and other farm work. New applicants for jobs throughout the state rose for the third consecutive month, increasing in June by 35,439 to a total of 124,045 of whom 28 per cent were women.

TRUMAN FLOOD PLAN LEAVES SOLONS COLD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—President Truman's request for $250,000,000 now to launch a 10-year, $6,000,000,000 flood control and river development program bumped into stern and powerful opposition today.

"It is a scatterfire and poorly-conceived plan," Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee which must pass on the request, told reporters.

"There is no possibility of legislation this year," added Chairman Dondero (R-Mich) of the house public works committee, which has jurisdiction over river programs up to the front where the appropriations committee takes over.

With that opposition to start with and congress in its waning days, even the most optimistic backers of the President's plan privately gave up hope for action this year.

"There's nothing we can do until next year, and it will be a fight even then," one of them said.

In a special message to congress yesterday, Mr. Truman said the recent devastating flooods in the Missouri and Mississippi valleys make it imperative that something be done quickly.

Dunkerque Rescue Story Revealed, 7 Years After Battle

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 17 — The British admiralty released today, seven years after the event, the epic story of the British and French evacuation from the bombed, bloody beaches of Dunkerque between May 26 and June 4, 1940.

Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay, who directed the operation, disclosed in his dispatch, written on June 18, 1940, that of the 176 British ships used in the operation 35 were sunk and 42 others damaged. Those ships, ranging from destroyers and hospital ships to trawlers and drifters, were supplemented by approximately 700 little boats which put out from British fishing points to rescue the battered troops.

Three hundred and thirty thousand of the British troops who had been driven out of Europe by the victorious Germans were brought back to Britain..

The admiralty, Ramsay wrote, had expected at the utmost to rescue 45,000.

The French navy, too, suffered heavy losses among the 196 ships which it flung into the task of evacuating French troops from the beaches. Nineteen of them were sunk and two others damaged, but they brought 20,525 French troops to Britain. In all, 123,095 French troops were transported across the channel in British and French ships.

"Heavy air attacks started on May 29," Ramsay wrote. "From then onwards the scale and vigor of the air attack increased and during June 1 all ships in Dunkerque, off the beaches or in the approach channels were subjected every two hours to an unprecedented scale of attack by aircraft in such numbers that the Royal Air Force were unable to deal with the situation."

A footnote reported the RAF destroyed 262 German planes over the beaches between May 26 and June 4.

He further stated that the atonement of Christ is based on the unity of the race in Adam, and that one man's sin brought death and one man's death brought redemption.

The sermon this evening will be "The Sea of Glass." Baptismal services will be held at the church Saturday at 3 p. m.

Steel Co. Official Wins a Bet—First Time in 25 Years

... A. DeLong, assistant works ... for the Marion plant of ... Steel Co., finally has ... winning his first friendly ... in more than 25 years ... company vice president and ... manager, Albert C. Weihl, ... Cincinnati, Mr. DeLong was a ... guest of honor Wednesday night ... "pay-off" dinner given by Mr. ... at the Fairway restaurant ... east of Galion.

It appears that Mr. DeLong and the company vice president have engaged in friendly jest whenever they met, the former constantly coming out second best. After all these years with Mr. DeLong still trying to get something on Mr. Weihl, the Marion man finally came through as the winner of a steak dinner.

The bet this time involved whether or not Pollak Steel could exceed a specified tonnage production over a certain period. Mr. DeLong bet that the company could and won by a margin of ... more than one per cent. Mr. Weihl jibed that a recheck ought ... be made but nevertheless ... was paid off.

Eight company executives were present for the steak dinner and appropriate testimonial ceremonies following. Amid considerable banter, Mr. DeLong was presented a "scroll of honor" for his "great tribute to the steel industry and civic achievement." In addition to the scroll, congratulations on winning his bet were received via telegram from a score of steel firms and read at the dinner. Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen also joined in the spirit of the occasion by sending a letter of congratulations.

COUNCIL

... several pieces of equipment for the city. Ordinances were adopted authorizing the safety-service director to advertise for bids for a new truck for street repair and maintenance use by the service department, purchase of a new automobile for the police department, purchase of a new automobile for use of the service department, and installation of a compressor type garbage truck body.

Leasing of portions of the new Marion airport for farming purposes during 1948 was authorized as a result of adoption of ordinance by council. The ordinance was adopted to enable farmers to plant their winter wheat crop with assurance that they would be able to lease the land until after the harvest next year, it was explained.

Council unanimously opposed a proposed ordinance for vacation of 140 feet of the west end of the first alley north of Church street between Vine and Baker streets. Adopted by a vote of four-to-two was an ordinance authorizing transfer of the east half of a lot on North Main street near the corporation limit from residential to commercial zone for the purpose of building a drive-in refreshment stand. The transfer was requested by Arthur Vogel.

Other Transfers

Other transfers from residential to commercial zones approved by council were: lot owned by T. R. Sammons and W. J. Kraner on North Main street, for construction of a grocery store building; lot owned by Ella Welter at the corner of Buckeye and Henry streets for purpose of erecting a welding shop; lot owned by Ava and Neil Cooper at the corner of Cheney avenue and Otis street for purpose of operating a grocery store.

A resolution was adopted authorizing transfer of franchise from the Marion Rapid Transit Co., a partnership to the Marion Rapid Transit Co., a corporation. Construction of a macadam pavement, concrete gutters, curb and sidewalk on Johnson street from Wilson avenue to the north end was approved in a resolution authorizing Ludwig and Kibbey Enterprises to construct the pavement, gutters and curb at the firm's expense under supervision of the city engineer.

New Street Light

Resolutions were adopted authorizing the Ohio Public Service Co. to install street lights at the east end of Fillmore street and the corner of Clinton street and Woodrow avenue. An ordinance adopted by council authorizes vacation of streets from Quarry street south to the Erie railroad right-of-way including Patterson and Vine streets and Ballentine avenue.

The city solicitor was authorized to settle and compromise the claim of Marion City hospital against William Weeks for the amount of $200 in a resolution adopted by council. The solicitor was also authorized to settle the claim of Francis Belt against the city for damages suffered as the result of a collision with a city truck truck June 7. The amount of the claim was $165.50. Authorization was given the solicitor to settle a claim for $225 brought against the city by Elma Miley in the allegedly wrongful death of Ray Miley. Miley died in city prison Feb. 14.

In a report of the council meeting Monday night which appeared in Tuesday's Star it was incorrectly stated that possibility of levying an amusement tax was referred to the city solicitor. The measure was referred to the finance committee.

The village was platted Dec. 23, 1890, and incorporated March 6, 1896, being named after John McGuffey of Columbus who conceived the idea of draining the Scioto marsh lands.

The event will get under way at 1 p. m. with a horse pulling contest for $100 in prizes. A baseball game is scheduled between Kenton and Ada, starting at 6 p. m. Other details of the program remain to be worked out, according to Chester Gould, president.

WAR BRIDE, MATE SIGHTSEEING IN N.Y.

NEW YORK, July 17—Mrs. Faye Ann Crow, attractive 20-year-old British war bride, and the husband from whom she ran away in Columbus were seeing the sights of New York together today and a relative said "looks like everything's going to be all right."

Mrs. Crow's uncle, Harry Duncan, of Bayside, Queens, disclosed that her husband, Frank Crow, a Columbus factory worker, flew here late yesterday when it was learned the comely brunet had hitch-hiked here from Columbus.

"They haven't made any definite plans yet about returning to Columbus," Duncan said, "but they're out together now and it looks like everything's going to be all right."

Asked whether the couple appeared to be completely reconciliated, Duncan replied "very much so."

The young bride, who arrived in this country last February, a year and a half after her marriage to Crow, spent five days on the road in a combination walk, hitch and bus flight to the Duncan home.

She blamed "just conditions" for her flight but her aunt, Mrs. Duncan said she was suffering from "homesickness and in-law trouble."

PLEAD INNOCENT OF DANVILLE ROBBERY

By The Associated Press

MOUNT VERNON, O., July 17—Four Columbus men who admitted raiding slot machines throughout Ohio pleaded innocent today to attempted robbery of a Danville store and were jailed in default of $1,000 bond each.

The quartet is charged with trying to rob confectioner L. R. Campbell of Danville last June 11. Campbell routed the men with a revolver shot but claimed they took a slot machine before fleeing.

The four appearing at a hearing in Justice Harold A. Bishoy's court are Robert J. Willis, 26; Richard P. Butler, 24; Fred H. Geis, 23, and Richard J. Murraya, 23, all of Columbus.

Prosecutor W. Thurman Todd displayed copies of signed statements the state highway patrol said were obtained from the four detailing "slot" raids extending back as far as five years.

Todd said the statements included the following admissions:

Butler had been highjacking slot machines for about five years in Scioto, Belmont, Franklin and Marion counties and in "all other counties where slots are operated."

The prosecutor said Butler had been on probation in Franklin county for a year in 1943.

Geis claimed the Danville trip was only his second, the previous excursion having been in Scioto county.

Murraya said he had been active in raids for about a year and a half, mostly west of Columbus but including Indian lake and Athens county.

Willis admitted working only about four or five months in Scioto, Adams, Belmont, Gallia, Muskingum and Logan counties and also in Lucas county.

More Meat, Lower Prices Foreseen As Possibility for Fall

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—The American Meat institute declared today—with reservations—that the nation faces the cheerful prospect of more meat at "moderately lower" prices this fall.

J. R. Eggert, the institute's associate director of marketing, said in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report that his organization expects a 15 per cent increase in meat supplies by autumn.

"It follows," Eggert said, "that moderately lower prices may be looked for at that time unless there are more wage increases and other developments which would further increase the public demand for meat."

He added that current meat prices, generally high, are "simply the result of more people having more money and wanting more meat than ever before, at a time when supplies are seasonably low."

Eggert's statement was submitted to the committee on the last day of a series of hearings to find out what can be done about stabilizing prices and the economy generally.

The institute official cited these principal reasons for the rise in meat prices since January:

▶A seasonal, 10 to 15 per cent decline in supplies.

▶An increase in weekly wages in industry "to an all-time high."

▶ record peak of 60,000,000 persons employed, an increase of about four per cent since the start of the year.

Contributing to the pressure on prices, Eggert added, is the fact that storage stocks of meat are smaller than the prewar average.

"Another complicating factor," he said, "is that the current outlook for grains, as compared with a year ago, is unfavorable and there are prospects for large grain exports."

GREECE AT FAULT IN BALKANS, SAY POLES

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, July 17 — Poland joined Russia today in blaming Greece for the current Balkan disorders and demanded formation of a new coalition government in Greece, new elections and the immediate withdrawal of foreign military personnel.

Poland's views were stated by Dr. Oscar Lange, United Nations security council president, as the council met in extraordinary session in an atmosphere intensified by the fighting in northern Greece.

"It is necessary that Greece be extricated from the network of international power politics," Lange said in demanding the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Lange said the primary trouble in the Baikans must be attributed to the internal situation in Greece, aggravated by the presence of foreign troops. The present government in Greece is a coalition of the major parties, with the Communists and other leftist groups excluded.

Lange vigorously opposed the American proposal for a semi-permanent UN commission in the Balkans on the ground that this seemed to be based on the assumption that the three Soviet Satellites—Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—were to blame for the Balkan trouble.

The council plunged again into the Balkan question after postponing until Aug. 5 any discussion on Egypt's demand for the withdrawal of British troops from Egyptian soil.

Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, council president, said he must support Russia's conclusions that Greece was primarily to blame for the current Balkan disorders rather than her northern neighbors—Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Two Drivers Fined, Licenses Suspended

The drivers' licenses of two motorists were suspended for three years and fines of $100 each were imposed against them in municipal court today after they pleaded guilty to charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

They men were Stanton J. Fellure, 22, of 310 Silver street and Elvin E. Belt, 31, of 162 Barnhart street. Fellure was arrested at 2:09 a. m. today while driving on West Center, police said. Belt was arrested at 10:14 last night on North State street.

The first skull of the so-called Neanderthal man was discovered in 1856 in Germany.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam Helps with the Dishwashing

Dropped in at the Abernathy's just the other evening—and there was Sam, out in the kitchen with an apron on, helping his missus wash the supper dishes. (And then I learned later he'd helped cook the supper, too.)

Of course, Sam could have settled into his favorite chair, enjoyed his evening glass of beer, and left all the messy kitchenwork to Dixie. But he kind of likes her company—and she in turn certainly appreciates his help.

In fact, sharing the housework and the mealtime chores is sort of a bond between them ... like sharing that friendly glass of beer together, when the work is done. It's one of those little all-important things in marriage.

From where I sit, the time that a man and wife can spend with each other in this busy world today is all too precious. And the more things they can do together, the better.

Never Ignore An Itchy Scalp
Noted Hair and Scalp Practitioner Tells Why

Dr. C. E. Shiffer, Licensed by State Medical Board, (Cosmetic Therapy)
Itchy scalp? Often harsh shampoos with alcohol, alkaline or acid ingredients are to blame. They irritate the scalp... often lead to serious scalp disorders.
Unlike ordinary shampoos, Dr. Shiffer's Special 101 Formula Shampoo was developed for use in professional treatment. Dr. Shiffer's Shampoo completely removes all dirt, dandruff and surface bacteria... yet is gentle enough for a baby's scalp. A few drops work up quickly into a rich lather in either hard or soft water. Rinses easily leaving the scalp feeling refreshingly clean ... and free from itch. For additional protection between shampoos try Dr. Shiffer's Hair and Scalp Conditioner.
"At all drug and department stores. If you are not completely satisfied, return the unused portion direct to Dr. Shiffer and he will refund your money immediately."

Eviction Notices Show No Gain Here Under New Rental Law

Leases Voluntary

Leases on property are entirely voluntary, both on the part of landlords and tenant, it was pointed out. Neither may be forced to put a lease in effect by signing it.

Leases may contain provisions for rent increases up to 15 per cent, but increases need not be for the full percentage allowed by law. Leases must not contain provisions which will allow the landlord to terminate them at will However, valid reasons recognized by state law, will be accepted as sufficient reason for terminating leases before the date originally agreed upon. These reasons include

The tenant's violation of his tenancy or committing a nuisance

The landlord's seeking accommodations for his personal use and occupancy

The landlord's contracting to sell accommodations to a purchaser for the purchaser's immediate personal occupancy.

The landlord's seeking to recover accommodations for the purpose of substantially altering, remodeling or demolishing to replace them with new housing accommodations, and the altering or remodeling cannot be accomplished while the tenant occupies the accommodations

The housing accommodations are non-housekeeping furnished within a single dwelling, the remaining portion of which is occupied by the landlord or his immediate family. This does not include rooming houses or boarding houses.

If a tenant has signed a lease, the expiration date is any time up to Dec 31, 1948, and he is forced for some valid reason to give up the accommodations, the lease may also be invalidated. Reasons for such action include transfer to another city because employment is changed, loss of job or similar occurrence.

Decontrol Date

Since accommodations on which leases are signed will be "decontrolled" after Dec. 31, 1947, they may be rented again after that date free of rent controls

Other accommodations may also be decontrolled by application to the area representative. To have accommodations decontrolled the landlord must have form D-94 for housing accommodations and form D-95 for hotels. Accommodations which may be decontrolled under this provision are: motor courts; tourist homes serving transient guests exclusively; new construction and conversions completed after Feb. 1 this year, except certain units constructed under the veterans' housing program, units not rented between Feb 1 and Dec 31 this year as housing accommodations, other than to members of the family of the occupants, all accommodations in hotels, including permanent guests

While there are rules for tenants to observe in signing leases, there are also provisions limiting the demands of landlords in agreements The new law provides in effect that the lease shall not place any burdens or restrictions on the tenant under which he was not obligated before June 30, 1947

Leases may not include a clause providing for an increase of rent to take effect after Dec 1, 1948, which is more than the rent for the period prior to Jan 1, 1949.

Another result of the new rent law is return by the government of private properties leased during the war. In Marion five properties were leased and converted into 10 dwelling units. Property owners are being given the opportunity to recover immediate possession by purchasing the unexpired lease contracts and agreeing that veterans will be given preference in case of future vacancy. Rights of the present tenants must also be respected. For information owners may contact C. M. Long on South Main street or communicate with Joseph Monaghan, regional conversion management supervisor, 2073 East Ninth street, Cleveland

In Memory of Zora Gerbes
★Though you have left us Zora
And a mystery shrouds your passing on,
We know that the soul goes back to God
After the breath in this body is gone.
In the eighth chapter of the Romans,
Verses thirty-eight and thirty-nine,
Brings back God's wonderful promise
To this old heart of mine.
That neither heights nor depth
Shall separate His love from you,
So I'm confident now my darling
You're with Him beyond the blue,
Though God alone knows the reason
That you were taken away.
We will live in that hope in Jesus
That we will meet again some day.
Though at present our hearts are broken
We will still lean on our Saviour's love,
For Zora we will still believe God's promise
That we'll meet some day up above.
Though your little children will miss you
We will raise them the very best we can,
We'll point them to the way of our Saviour
The one who died for every woman and man.
Then when the role is called up yonder
In that meeting up in the air,
There will not be anyone absent
Is our most earnest prayer.
Though friends have called by the hundreds
To see you as in your coffin you lay,
We will just hold you in our memory
Till we meet you on that judgment day.
There God shall wipe away all tears
As we look upon His sweet face,
There we can spend all eternity together
For we will have run the final race.
So although you have left us Zora
In this your twenty-fifth year,
Your memory will linger with us always
A memory that will be most dear.

Bargain Shelf Beau Brummell Tips Low-Down on High Prices

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 16—Into the senate strode the world's greatest storekeeper in a Sears, Roebuck and Co's $22.50 summer suit of tan cotton.

His coat was rumpled and threadbare around the collar from repeated washings; with it he wore a speckled necktie from Sear's 89 cent rack. When you're the biggest retailer of all and you're expecting to do two billion dollars worth of business this year, you don't have to look like a fashion plate.

So, Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck and Co., sat at ease in his well-worn haberdashery before the congressional joint economic committee. He said among other things that prices are on the way down and that no depression is in sight. He mentioned radios as one of the things which already have dropped drastically in price.

Question No Embarrassment

Well then, demanded one of the congressmen, what about the mantel radios that cost $10 before the war and $30 now? That question did not embarrass the general.

Yep, he said, he was strolling through one of his own stores last fall, looking over the stock of midget radios priced at $30.

"They weren't worth $30, either," he added. "Or anywhere near it. Today the price of these same radios is $20."

The congressman said that still seemed too high; the general still was not embarrassed.

"Of course it is," he said. "And in about three months more that same radio will sell for $15."

Leave It to People

He said he believed congress could leave it to the people to bring down prices; the customers simply don't buy when costs are too high.

"Yes, because they've run out of money," snapped Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

"Not at all," replied Gen. Wood, crossing his knees and displaying his scuffed, $4.95 Sears, Roebuck Shoes. "This thing all started last fall when rich women refused to pay $5,000 for fur coats."

He said they'd only pay $2,000. Prices of all coats fell, cloth ones included. Then the bargain sales spread to dresses, jewelry and high grade cosmetics.

"And soon there wasn't any demand for costume jewelry at all," he said, "and that's the way it goes."

Taft Has Question

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the chairman, wondered whether he'd care to mention any other fields where prices were too high. Gen. Wood fingered the collar of his $2.95 Sears, Roebuck shirt and said he certainly would. He said textiles were too high and that eventually the price would break. He did his best, in fact, to break it himself.

"We withheld textile orders for three and four months, hoping that we could force prices down," he said. "And I talked to some of these manufacturers and told them they were displaying a very poor form of industrial statesmanship, holding their prices up."

These gents, he said, refused to cooperate. So, unfortunately, did the people. They kept on buying shirts from the General and finally he was forced to re-order. He indicated (without quite saying so) that if his customers had played along with him and made their old shirts do, the price of same would be much lower now.

Even so, he said, he wasn't worried about the future. The business prophets have been wrong on every count since the end of the war and he ignores them. Only thing that bothers him, he said, is the mess the building trades have made of the housing industry. He blames the union workers and their bosses equally for trying to sell the people less for more money. This, he said, won't work.

And when Sears, Roebuck and Co. cuts the price of men's suits again, I wouldn't be surprised if the general bought himself a new one.

New U. S. Policy on Germany's Economic Unity Called Historic

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United States government has issued its first official statement of policy governing Germany since the war, and takes the position that a stable and prosperous Germany is necessary to the rehabilitation of Europe orderly and prosperous.

The historic statement is in the form of a directive to the occupational force in Germany. It instructs Gen. Clay, American military commander, to "achieve as much as every practicable degree of economic unity" in the American zones, and says the highest priority should be given to increased production of coal, food and export goods.

The greatest importance must be attached to this declaration in view of the increasing gravity of the European economic crisis. It is a situation which is going to be worse before it can start to get better. To use the graphic warning of French Premier Ramadier: "The hour has come for Europe to organize or die."

The United States directive takes on particular significance in view of the approaching Anglo-American conference in Washington to discuss methods for increasing the all-important coal production of the Ruhr upon which economic recovery not only of Germany but of Europe depends so heavily.

That conference is likely to pivot on a showdown between the two countries over the British Socialist government's insistence on nationalization of the Ruhr coal mines.

The United States has opposed this, and the other day proposed that nationalization be deferred for five years. Washington takes the view that nationalization is a question for the German people to decide.

Of course it's easy to understand why a Socialist government, which ranks nationalization as one of its cardinal tenets, should want to see it carried out in Germany and elsewhere. It will be surprising, however, if an ideological argument is allowed to stymie an agreement for German recovery. After all, while the British Socialist government believes it is on the right economic road at home, it still has to demonstrate it. We are dealing with a theory and not a demonstrated fact.

More Than Just Ism

However, I judge that there's more to the British stand than that revolving about the ism. Britain doesn't want to see the riches of the Ruhr revert to the control of the war-mongering Prussian junkers. What with its coal, and the vast Krupp armament works, the Ruhr was the material mainspring of German aggression.

When it comes down to the question of the Prussian war-lords getting control of the Ruhr again, surely there can be small ground for dispute among the Allies. One of the main objectives of the war was to put Prussianism out of business. Still, nationalization isn't the only method of handling this situation. International control might turn the trick, and it seems a fair guess that something along that line will come up for serious consideration at the Washington conference.

Certainly things can't go on as they are now in the Ruhr. The coal production has fallen off dangerously, and it must be stimulated by new methods. On that basis we are entitled to expect Britain and America to reach a quick agreement.

If these two major powers can't agree iver Germany, what's the use of asking the countries of western Europe to reach an accord over economic reconstruction of the continent.

RAILWAY REVIVES HEALTH AND RECREATIONAL PLAN

C. and O. Reestablishes Service Suspended During Depression.

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, July 17—Revival of a health and recreation program for the more than 50,000 employes of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company was announced today by Robert J. Bowman, president of the road.

The program, started in 1923 and discontinued during the depression year of 1931, will be directed by Charles R. Hook Jr., assistant to the president.

Participation by the company in employe recreational activities will amount to bearing one-half the actual expense of equipment and uniforms in all instances where employes form athletic teams, and to permitting the use of available railroad properties for athletic activities where this does not interfere with railway operations.

In making the announcement, Mr. Bowman said he hoped the program would benefit a large number of employes and encourage them to engage in wholesome local recreational activities fostering a spirit beneficial to the local group as well as to the company.

"UN All Mouth, No Muscle," Says Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

LAKE SUCCESS—Watching the security council try to play a world police force for the United Nations is like listening to a bad phonograph record.

The music comes out pretty as you please until a certain point. Then the needle sticks and all you hear is a grinding noise— ur-r-r-run, ur-r-r-run, ur-r-r-run."

The security council has been stuck at the same point since last April 30.

Hal Boyle

It gets stuck whenever the council starts to take up the question of what size military or police force the United Nations should have or how much each country should contribute.

This is pretty much as if an apartment house roof caught fire, and the tenants began quarreling over which fire station to call and how many firemen to ask for. The more they quarrel the closer the fire spread toward their own apartments.

Work 15 Months

It took 15 months for the military staff committee—made up of the chief-of-staff of the five big powers—to bring out a report of any kind on setting up a United Nations police force.

The report came then only after strong British pressure.

Russia promptly took exception to a third of the report's 41 sections.

And since that report was handed up the security council has been unable to reach agreement on a single point disputed by Russia. Here is the point where the needle sticks.

Basically Russia want the United Nations navy, air force and army made up on a principle of equality—that is, each country would contribute the same number of ships, planes, tanks and foot soldiers.

The United States and other leading powers think this is militarily screwball, as all countries don't have the same kind of fighting equipment. China for example, could contribute plenty of infantrymen but couldn't dig up an aircraft carrier.

Fix It Up Later"

Andrei Gromyko answer to this is that such "variations" could be considered and worked out later. The other countries think it would be better to start out with the idea of each country contributing proportionally more or less of each kind of weapon depending on the quantity it has.

So there the matter rests. But the security council is still trying to play the record through. Like this.

The British delegate proposes that the military staff committee go ahead and determine how large an overall United Nations force will be necessary, thus postponing the question of its makeup until later.

"No!" says Gromyko.

French To the Rescue

The French delegate Alexandre Parodi, tries another compromise. Let the military staff committee take the smallest United Nations force hypothetically possible, he says, and see if it is possible to make up such a force along the lines of the Russian proposal—that is each country contributing ship for ship, tank for tank, plane for plane.

"No," says Gromyko. He says he wants no hypothetical problems. He just wants the security council to agree on his "equality principle" first, then work it out later.

So the record sticks again and the musical goes round and round. The security council moves on to discuss some other topic—like the trouble in the Balkans.

Thus the United Nations, two years after its founding in San Francisco, is still an organism with many mouths and many viewpoints, but no real muscle.

In a showdown of force it couldn't defend itself against a pack of angry March hares. For as yet the military staff committee doesn't command even a single-barreled shotgun.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Childhood Crippler

One of the worst features of rheumatic fever, today's deadliest enemy of childhood, is the way it has of coming back time after time. Like a stealthy assassin, it keeps after its chosen victims year after year and with each attack more damage is done to the heart. Unlike most of the contagious diseases which at least bring their own immunity with them, one attack of rheumatic fever only serves to make another more likely.

Thus it is very good news indeed that small daily doses of sulfonamide drugs seem of value in keeping this killer at bay.

We do not yet know the exact cause of rheumatic fever but during the past twenty years evidence has been accumulating to show that streptococcus germs have a great deal to do with it.

During the war it was found that the giving of a small daily dose of one of the sulfonamide preparations was effective in reducing the number of streptococcal infections, as well as the number of cases of scarlet fever and rheumatic fever among soldiers in camps throughout the country.

With these things in mind Dr. Robert A. Lyon of Cincinnati, and his co-workers carried out a study of 120 children who were given sulfonamide drugs over a long period of time in an effort to prevent recurring attacks of rheumatic fever. Sulfathiazole and sulfadiazine were employed.

Some of the children were given the drug morning and evening while others took it only in the morning. The treatment was not started until it was certain that the patients had recovered from acute stages of the rheumatic fever.

During the first month of treatment examinations of the urine and blood were made weekly and thereafter at monthly intervals.

The study was carried out over a period of three years. Of this group of 120 children only three had recurrences of the rheumatic fever while taking the sulfonamide drugs. However even in these cases it was not certain that the preparations were taken regularly and in one of the three it was thought that possibly the child had an infection at the time treatment was started.

In 37 instances reactions to the sulfonamide drugs occurred. These unfavorable reactions were more frequent in the children using the sulfadiazone than in those taking sulfathiazole and most often took the form of albumin in the urine. In practically all instances this disappeared when use of the preparations was stopped for a week. In six instances however the amount of albumin was so great that it was necessary to discontinue the treatment for a period of several months. In no case was there any other evidence of actual kidney inflammation.

In nine instances there was a marked decrease in the number of white cells in the blood and in these cases also it was necessary to stop using the sulfonamide preparations.

The response of most of the children to this form of treatment was excellent. In all the results in the prevention of attacks of rheumatic fever were outstanding.

The length of time over which the preventive treatment must be employed varies to a great extent. In children over fifteen years of age usually the treatment can be stopped. In children with little or no permanent heart damage and who have had two years or more of such treatment it also probably may be discontinued, according to Dr. Lyon and his co-workers.

CUT YOUR MEAT COSTS WITH ALBERS "CUT-RIGHT" "TenderBeef"

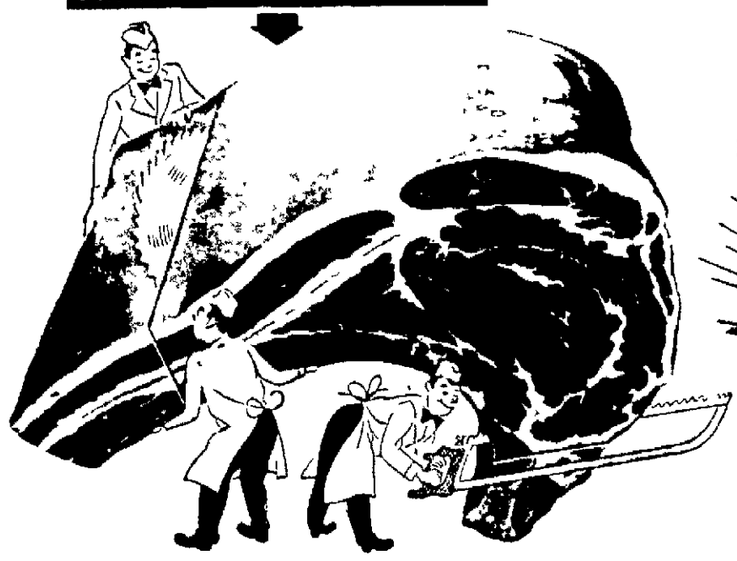
3 FACTORS DETERMINE A BEEF VALUE

1. QUALITY . . Albers "TenderBeef" is all U. S. Gov't graded good and choice (or AA & A), which are the top grades. In addition "TenderBeef" must meet rigid specifications set up by Albers meat buyers. All "TenderBeef" is U. S. Government inspected.

2. PRICE . . . . It is not the price per pound that counts, but what you get for the price you pay. Albers "TenderBeef" is always priced low because you pay for only the choice part. Excessive fat and chine bone on roasts and long tails and excess fat on steaks have been removed.

3. PROPER CUTTING AND TRIMMING . . This is the factor that makes "TenderBeef" the outstanding beef value. Albers "TenderBeef" is "Trimmed Close" and "Cut Right." You do not pay for excess bone and parts of coarse meat that you would trim off and throw away. You pay for only the choice part when you buy "TenderBeef" . . . all short ribs on rib roasts are removed, and tail of steaks cut off, chine bone on rib roasts trimmed, excess fat removed from steaks and roasts . . . Yes, you pay for only the part you enjoy eating.

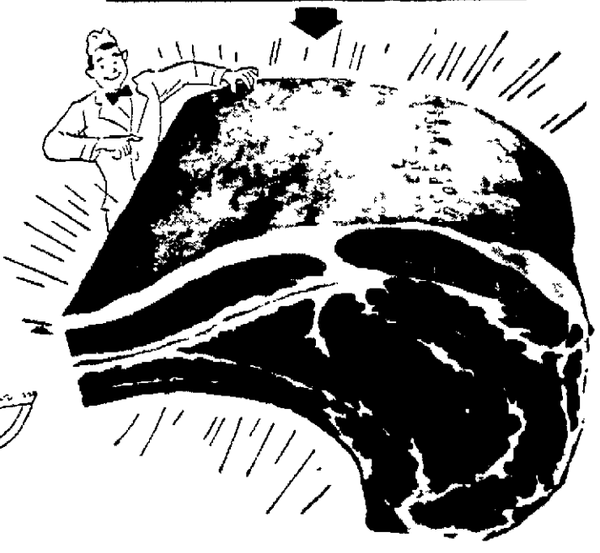
TRIMMED THE OLD WAY



Shown above is a rib roast cut the old style way. Notice the excess amount of chine bone, which is waste. Note the long cut on the short rib end which increases the cost you pay for the Choice Prime Rib Cuts.

It is not economical to buy a rib roast as pictured above. For example this prime rib roast cut from the first five ribs of fine quality, corn fed beef is worth even at the relatively low price of 53¢ a pound. This roast including short ribs excess of chine bone and all, weighing 7 lbs at 53¢ a lb would cost you $3.71

ALBERS CUT-RIGHT WAY



Here is the same fine quality rib roast cut the Albers "Cut Right" way. The short ribs are removed, the end of the chine bone has been cut off and disposed of as waste. Only the very heart of the roast remains, with the same number of delicious servings and at a price in keeping with Albers policy of giving you more good eating for your money.

The "Cut Right" prime rib roast shown above was cut from the first five ribs of fine quality corn fed "TenderBeef" "Trimmed close the Albers way this roast weighs 5 lbs 14 oz., at the home of the roast and at 57¢ a lb would cost $3.34

READ THIS BEFORE YOU BUY YOUR NEXT RIB ROAST

When a whole rib of beef is cut in a meat market it consists of several parts. (1) There is a prime rib roast consisting of the first five ribs (2) a pot roast of two heavy blade ribs (3) a series of seven short ribs and (4) a protruding edge of the chine bone that is waste.
Consider first the two heavy blade ribs. They are not suitable for roasting but make a delicious pot roast. So if you buy heavy blade ribs for prime ribs you are not getting your money's worth . . . with Albers "Cut Right" method you get only the tender first five ribs as rib roasts, the two blade ribs are sold as pot roast at a considerably lower price, and the short ribs are sold as short ribs at a still lower price. Remember you can buy Albers "TenderBeef" with confidence and cut your meat costs too!

STATE CHIEFS HEDGE ON AID

Governors Indorse Marshall, Personally; Become Vague on Program.

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, July 17—Secretary of State Marshall had a vote of "faith and confidence" from the nation's governors today but he lacked any specific approval of his plan for the economic rebuilding of Europe.

Turning to a day of play after ending their business sessions, governors generally interpreted a foreign policy resolution which they had adopted as a reiteration of their faith in the workability of the bipartisan international policy.

Despite a personal plea by Marshall in a Monday night address for their backing for "a course of action fully consistent with our own national interests and yet equally considerate of the incalculable stake which this country has in the preservation of European civilization," the resolution omitted any reference to Europe.

Recounting the historical American fight for preservation of individual liberties, the resolution says that the United States stands today as "the bulwark of human freedom." It said the nation's foreign policy "is intimately related to the support of our historic liberties."

"Therefore," the resolution continued, "the governors' conference hereby asserts its conviction that our foreign policy of this country transcends in importance all partisan, personal or political considerations and should be at all times an American foreign policy, representative of the best in America and representing the United States to the nations of the world as a country that seeks peace and is united in its determination to protect the inalienable rights and privileges that our citizens now enjoy."

This left room for possible future support of the Marshall European aid plan, but as some governors observed it avoided any advance endorsement until the details are known.

Only Toto Tames Gargantua

FEROCIOUS GARGANTUA THE GREAT, famous Ringling-Barnum anthropoid giant, has big ideas until his bride, Toto, glares him into sullen silence.

Writers call Gargantua the Great "the world's most terrifying living creature" and "an imprisoned sovereign being," and the writers are right, for Gargantua is just that . . . when his 450-pound bride, Toto, is not looking. For it is the loving Toto who subjects her husband to the gorilla Bronx cheer whenever he begins to chuck his weight about.

The world knows Gargantua and Toto as the most famous animals in captivity and as the top menagerie feature of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus, coming to Marion, Friday at Crystal Lake park for performances at 3:15 and 8:15 p. m., with doors open at 2 and 7. The world awaits the coming of their first offspring. So does the circus.

The 1947 program of "The Greatest Show on Earth," star studded and buttressed with prewar quality features and production triumphs, is presented by hundreds of renowned artists in the world's largest big top, this year longer than ever before.

One of the many new presentations to be offered by the Big Show in 1947 is the spectacular "Wedding of Cinderella," a panoramic procession of wonders straight from childhood's fondest dreams.

Wrecked Auto's Lights Cause Trainmen To Jump

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Two trainmen, mistaking the lights of a wrecked automobile for an oncoming train, leaped from the cab of a Baltimore and Ohio locomotive Tuesday night and were injured.

They were brakeman N. T. Tiffany, 29, and fireman O. E. Berry, 47, both of Newark.

Both were treated at University hospital and released. Tiffany suffered scratches on his legs, scalp lacerations and an injured right wrist. Berry was only slightly hurt.

They were aboard an eastbound freight train and jumped off at Summit station, east of Columbus.

Three minutes earlier the automobile, driven by Samuel L. Cudgel, 33, of Columbus, stalled on the adjoining Pennsylvania railroad tracks. A Pennsylvania train struck it and knocked it upon the B. and O. tracks. Cudgel and Ann Parker, 30, also of Columbus jumped out before the train struck.

Recipes from a Singer

PINEAPPLE CONE . . . Creole recipe for hot days.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

It has been my great privilege in recent months to become good friends with Adelaide Van Wey, the American contralto whose specialty is the folk song forms of our country. She also loves food and is a magnificent cook. To a cook like me that's ample reason for friendship, especially when her culinary specialty is Creole cooking, which I learned to love in New Orleans. Here are some of the recipes she has given me.

Pineapple Cone

1 fresh pineapple, ½ pound peanut brittle, 1 bottle ginger ale.

Cut the pineapple in half, leaving the plumes on. Score the edible part and leave it as it is. Pound the peanut brittle in a tea cloth until it is pulverized. Stuff the cracks in the pineapple with this. Put into the refrigerator for at least one hour (longer is better). When ready to serve, cut into quarters and pour ginger ale or other carbonated beverages over all.

Oyster Loaf

1 loaf French bread, Garlic, Butter, 2 dozen oysters.

Split bread lengthwise, leaving a hinge, and take out the soft insides. Rub inside of loaf with cut clove of garlic, then butter it. Saute oysters in more butter until they curl. Mix them with some of the soft bread removed from the loaf and stuff the mixture into the loaf—tightly. Close the loaf. Wrap it in a cheesecloth which has been dipped in milk. Tighten the cheesecloth by twisting the ends. Bake in 325-350 degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes, or until piping hot. To serve slice through from top to bottom—about two-inch slices.

Shrimp Creole

2 cups cooked, cleaned shrimp, 1 cup cooked rice, ½ can tomatoes, ½ cup chopped, stuffed olives, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 small green pepper, chopped and sauted, 6 dashes of tobasco, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1 tablespoon chili powder, ½ teaspoon freshly ground peppers.

Combine all ingredients and blend well. Place in an ovenproof casserole. Top with grated sharp cheese. Bake until piping hot and cheese is melted.

Spiced Ham

Ham slices, Bahamian mustard, brown sugar, 1½ cups unsweetened pineapple juice, 2-3 sticks of cinnamon, 5-6 cloves, tiny onion, sliced thin.

Have ham slices cut ¼ to ½ inch thick. Massage each slice with Bahamian mustard, then with brown sugar, until that is absorbed. Place in an iron skillet without fat. Brown on both sides. Pour in pineapple juice. Add cinnamon sticks, cloves and onion. Cover tightly and cook over a low flame for 30 minutes.

Now Procter & Gamble can tell the

of a modern washday miracle!

IT'S TIDE

... you've never used anything like it!

The inside story of this postwar miracle begins back in the years of Procter & Gamble's wartime research. Out of the new knowledge gained in that research came Tide. Tide does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! Try Tide just once and you'll know it's entirely different! Tide's amazing suds look and feel different . . . and they billow up instantly, even in hardest water!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

Yes, cleaner than any soap! Nothing's too dirty for Tide! Even grease-stained overalls come so marvelously fresh and clean . . . cleaner than with any soap you've ever used, because Tide leaves clothes free—not only from ordinary dirt—but from gray, dingy soap film as well!

2. Actually brightens colors!

Prove it for yourself! Take that soap-dulled, faded-looking print . . . wash it in Tide's miracle suds . . . and see how much brighter it comes out! Tide is really safe for dainty washable colors!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

No matter how often you wash them, or how long you wash them, Tide won't leave clothes yellow . . . keeps them sparkling white, white as other suds!

4. Gives more suds—
From 2 to get depend

Tide is the only soap containing the amazing ingredient that gives Tide its wonderful suds. Tide suds are completely safe! Make the easiest test of your package or your dealer, and be convinced with the minutes.

Truman Needles Slow Congress For Action on Flood Controls

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 17—President Truman has called upon congress to do a real job with flood control, fast.

What he's asking congress for is money. The U. S. army engineers have the plans.

But this is an economy-minded congress, all for cutting expenses, and it's not likely to do much of what Mr. Truman asks.

James Marlow

It's time for doing is short. It quits for 1947 this month.

This is the second time in 1947 the President has asked congress for big action. The first time was in January. The second was yesterday.

In short, this is what he said:

The engineers have the plans and they've been doing what flood control work they could with the money congress has allowed them.

But at the rate they're going—or, rather, at the rate congress has been dishing out the money—the plans will take 40 years to finish.

Truman Asks 10 Years

Mr. Truman is asking congress to vote enough money to finish the job in 10 years.

The great problem of flood control is in the Mississippi river basin, or watershed, as it is called.

It stretches from the Appalachian mountains in the east to the Rockies in the west.

It takes in all or part of 31 states, or 41 per cent of the United States. This is about 2,500,000 square miles of the most fertile land in America.

Western rivers, flowing eastward from the Rockies, empty into the Mississippi.

Eastern rivers, flowing westward from the Appalchians, empty into it, too.

The Mississippi, starting away up in Minnesota near Lake Itasca, flows south 2,540 miles to the Gulf of Mexico.

4 Feeder Rivers

As it moves down to the gulf it is fed by four great rivers which empty into it:

The Ohio, flowing from the east; the Missouri, Arkansas and Red rivers flowing from the west.

Those great rivers themselves—as they travel toward the Mississippi—are fed by countless smaller rivers and streams.

So the five rivers—Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas and Red—drain the huge center of the nation.

And sometimes one or more of them flood and run over their banks. The Missouri and upper Mississippi just did.

These floods spread death, destroy homes and crops, wash away priceless topsoil so necessary for farming, and cause money loss in a thousand ways, such as stalled trains, broken telephone lines, and so on.

1927 Flood Brought Action

After the disastrous lower Mississippi river flood in 1927, congress told the engineers to do a flood control job there.

They've been working on it since then—without time out for war—and in the 20 years since 1927 have half finished the job.

They've been limited by the amount of money congress will give them each year.

The cost of flood control on that lower river—the river below Cairo, Ill.—was to have been about $1,000,000,000. So far congress has appropriated, or voted, about $546,000,000 for the job.

(This year, with about $450,000,000 of the work still to be done, the house has voted only $24,000,000. The senate may boost this a bit.)

After the disastrous Ohio river flood of 1937, congress told the engineers to draw up a plan of flood control for the whole country, which means all the big rivers, not just the lower Mississippi.

The engineers did and have been working on it since—except during the war—but their work has been limited by the money given by congress.

Mr. Truman figures to carry out the flood control program—to be finished in 10 years if congress votes enough money—will cost about $6,000,000,000.

Henrich Stars As Yanks Win No. 17

By The Associated Press

Tommy (The Clutch) Henrich, who was not even listed as a regular at the start of the season, finally has emerged from the shadows to take his rightful place among the top flight stars of baseball today.

Eclipsed during most of his major league career by such famous teammates as Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller and Spud Chandler, the Cleveland rightfielder of the New York Yankees actually has been the hottest batter in the American league during the past three weeks.

The Yankees, concurrent with Henrich's sizzling stickwork, have won their last 17 games for a new club mark, surpassing the old standard of 16 set in 1926. They need only two more wins to equal the league record of 19 established by the Chicago White Sox of 1906.

Alternative First Baseman

Henrich was slated to alternate at first base with the aging George McQuinn, according to early season plans of Manager Bucky Harris. Tommy soon convinced his boss that he belonged in the lineup every day with his fine clutch hitting and returned to his old right field post.

Tommy got a home run and single yesterday while driving in two runs as the Yankees defeated the Indians again 8-2 last night before a crowd of 46,988 home Cleveland rooters and increased the Yankees' first place lead over runner-up Detroit to 11½ games.

The National league leading Brooklyn Dodgers outslugged the Pittsburgh Pirates at Ebbets' field 10-6. Hank Behrman, recently returned by the Pirates to Brooklyn after his conditional purchase from the Dodgers, gained his first victory at the expense of his former mates. Jackie Robinson, with two doubles and a single, led the Dodgers' 14-hit attack against loser Ernie Bonham and two relievers.

Braves Beat Cards

Warren Spahn, hurled his 13th win and his fourth shutout for the Braves, a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a night game in Boston.

The New York Giants whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in an afternoon game at the Polo grounds. The Philadelphia Phils, behind the three-hit pitching of Dutch Leonard, defeated the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 in Philadelphia.

Detroit and Washington split a doubleheader at the Tiger city, the Bengals coming from behind with a four-run eighth inning to win the opener 9-8. The senators ganged up on four pitchers for 16 hits to capture the nightcap 10-1.

Ted Williams slammed his 16th home run and added two singles to drive in three runs and lead the Boston Red Sox to a 7-2 win over the White Sox in Chicago.

After losing the first game to the Browns 5-4 in 11 innings when Jeff Heath and Paul Lernet hit extra-inning homers to overcome a 4-3 Philly lead, the Philadelphia Athletics won the second game of the twilight-night doubleheader in St. Louis 4-1. Young Bill McCahan doled out four hits to win.

Wrestles Elviry Snodgrass Tonight

Plenty of hair will be pulled at the Marion Armory when Elviry Snodgrass and Mae Weston hook up in the one of the main events. There should be a lot of wrestling done also, for both these girls have over eight years in the pro game of cauliflower, in fact Mae Weston is the only girl to have a cauliflower ear. Their match will be ninety minutes or the best two out of three falls. The other main event is between the winners of last week's matches at the armory. Bill Fox who pulled a fast one on Gordon Hessell and Rufus Jones, who evened the score against Dutch Schultz. Both Fox and Jones are evenly matched and should have a great bout. The one fall prelim at 8:30 is between Burton Patterson and Raymond Frost. Prices 50c, 75c and $1.00. Call 2748 after six for the best ringside.—Adv.

CUBS AGAIN BILLED FOR DOUBLEHEADER WITH DAYTON NINE

Tribe To Stay Over for Single Game Tomorrow, If Weather Permits.

A doubleheader at Lincoln park is again booked for tonight with Ival Goodman's Dayton Indians. The Indians have been standing around for two days now waiting for the weatherman to give his O.K. to a ball game.

The first game, if weather permits, will be a seven-inning affair starting at 6:30. The other will follow and go the nine-inning route. Bill Rosin will pitch one of the games with Jitts Lawrence working the other for the Cubs.

The Indians will stay over tomorrow night for a single game. The day was originally an open date on the schedule and the Cubs had agreed to play a return game with the Mansfield Training school,, but with the Indians returning to Marion only once more it was found necessary to play the postponed games now.

Springfield will come to Marion Saturday for a three-game series including a twin bill Sunday. The annual Shrine game for the benefit of crippled children will be played with the Giants Saturday night.

Manager Nelson Burbrink has all his southpaw pitchers ready for the Giants' lefthanded lineup. Jim Sabens with a record of six wins against two losses will hurl in the big Shrine game. Bert Flamini with three wins and no defeats and John Graney with a one and none record will be ready for the Sunday doubleheader.

Here for Shrine Benefit Game Saturday

The Shrine marching band from Aladdin Temple, Columbus, pictured above, will play an important part in the parade through Marion and in ceremonies at the field before the Shrine benefit game at Lincoln park Saturday night. Marion will meet Springfield in a regular Ohio State league game. The 120-piece organization is recognized as one of the leading Shrine bands in the country.

Shrine Helps Two Children From Marion

Benefit Game Officials Reveal Local Youngsters Aided.

Two Marion children have been treated recently by the Columbus Aladdin Temple Hospital Association for Crippled Children, Shrine club officials revealed today.

Saturday night at Lincoln park a benefit baseball game for the association will be held under the sponsorship of Marion Shrine club. The regular Ohio State league Marion-Springfield championship game will be played.

The local Shrine club declined to give the names of the children. One, a small girl not quite three years old, has almost completely recovered from her affliction, they said. The child's expression, after her formerly crooked legs were taken out of their cast and she realized she would be able to walk like normal children, was enough to make anyone glad they had aided such a program, they added.

This will be the second annual Shrine benefit game held in Marion. Once again gala pre-game and after-game ceremonies are planned.

The colorful red, green, and yellow uniformed band and marching patrol from Aladdin temple will appear in connection with the program. Following the game, fireworks will illuminate north-Marion skies.

Aladdin's patrol and band are nationally known. For years the patrol was winner of all drill competitions, until such competitions were discontinued.

Tickets to the game can be obtained at $1 each from Marion Shriners and at Markert and Lewis Clothing store, Anson Pickerel clothing store, Wiant's Book store, and Moskin's clothing store.

Racers To Try Again With Tuesday's Bill

With rain changing the plans every night, Racing Secretary Frank M. Foster is kept busy making a program that he never gets to race. However, the card originally booked for Tuesday night and carried over to last night will again try the elements tonight.

The twice rained-out card will present 10 races including two carried over from the Monday night program when two heats of the 28 class pace stake were not finished. The program tonight will start at 8 p. m.

The program for the remainder of the week will find two stake races Friday night and three big events in the windup program Saturday night. The bill tomorrow will include the 24 trot and 23 pace stake.

The big windup night Saturday will feature three high class stakes. First is the 14 trot and the 17 pace. The big feature of the whole week and next in importance to the big $3,000 14 class stake last Saturday is the free-for-all pace.

This race will bring together most of the fast side-wheelers that were in the contest in addition to several others that were not eligible for the 14 class last week.

The program Friday and Saturday is booked to start at the regular time of 8:30 p. m.

Sir Volo and Long Shot Win at Saratoga Track

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 17—Sir Volo won the $3,750 Ashgrove Farms pace, feature Grand Circuit event at the Saratoga raceway last night, in a three-way photo finish.

The winner, owned by Con Casey of Troy, was clocked in 2:10 1-5 in the final race, run in driving rain. Zam Zam finished second and Rev Rea, third.

Miss Rose Abbe, an 80-1 shot, won the first elimination but finished fourth in the final. Sir Volo captured the second elimination.

Miss Rose paid $175.10 in the mutuels, the largest price at the Saratoga raceway in two years.

Graziano Wins Middleweight Title In Sixth Round T. K. O. over Zale

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 17 — Rocky Graziano, tough, tousled-haired youngster from the streets of New York who looks just like he had sneaked out of an alley, reigned today as middleweight boxing champion of the world.

The 25-year-old Graziano, fighting to redeem himself from the stigma of suspension in New York state, battered the 33-year-old title-holder Tony Zale to pitiful helplessness in the Chicago stadium last night.

Graziano, himself previously on a verge of a knockout, was declared the winner on a technical knockout 2 minutes 10 seconds after the start of the sixth round. The finish came at almost the exact stage that Zale had come from behind to knock out Graziano in their first engagement in New York last Sept. 27.

Attendance Record

The savagely-fought battle, scheduled for 15 rounds, was witnessed by a sweltering, howling crowd of 18,547 which established an all-time indoor gate by paying $422,918. Zale will receive $130,417 and Graziano $65,208.

Zale, champion since 1940, came to the end of his trail with tragic suddenness. Up to the end of the fifth round, two judges and Referee Johnny Behr had voted him leading on points by a safe margin for carrying the attack to the challenger. Zale had gashed a cut over Graziano's left eye. His right eye was rapidly closing and his nose was bleeding and cut.

In the third round Zale, who weighed 159 to 155¼ for the challenger, had all but finished Graziano. Bleeding Rocky was badly hurt and staggering under Zale's punishing blows to the head and body. A short right to the chin had floored Graziano but he was up before the count started.

Start of Finish

In the fourth, Graziano drove a terrific right to Zale's midsection, devastating punch that started Zale to his finish. Zale, however, courageously tried to carry the battle to his opponent but the punishing power of his blows was fading.

Zale started to wilt in the fifth. His tempo slowed. He battled on with the pride of a falling champion, but failed to hurt Graziano and at the end of the round he was visibly tired.

Then came the dramatic sixth and finish.

Once Zale stabbed with a left in a vain attempt to halt Graziano's charges. But Rocky stepped in with another right to the jaw and Zale, completely helpless, sagged under the top strand of the ropes. Referee Behr pulled Rocky away.

As the timekeeper shouted "three," Behr pushed Graziano to a neutral corner and ended the fight.

Sam Pian and Art Winch, co-managers of Zale, declared today they would demand a return match with Graziano in accordance with the 90-day return bout stipulation in their contract.

Next opponent on the books is Shelby at Lincoln park at 2:30 p. m.

Sunday Marion travels to Galion for a game at Heise park starting at 2:30 p. m.

ZANESVILLE CLINCHES OSL ALL-STAR GAME

Beats Richmond To Assure Host Role, July 29.

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers today had clinched the host spot for the second straight year for the Ohio State League's All-Star game, July 29.

The Dodgers assured themselves of the honor with a 6-4 victory last night over Richmond's Roses when pitcher Sandy Lambert hung up his 11th victory against four defeats.

The Dodgers' victory gave them a two-game lead over Marion, idle after rain washed out a double-header with Dayton. The margin is now mathematically certain that Zanesville will be in first place when Monday morning, when the first-place leader wins the right to play in the mid-season classic.

Zanesville's competition will be selected in a poll of league sports writers conducted by President Frank M. Colley of Columbus.

In the league's other games last night Muncie and Newark divided a doubleheader and Springfield defeated Lima, 10-7.

Pat Fowler's steal of home in the ninth inning of the opener gave Newark a 6-4 victory. Muncie then broke out with an 18-hit attack in the abbreviated nightcap, winning 16-4.

Home runs last night came from Springfield's Ben Haddix and Bill Scally, Lima's Jim Grimes, and Newark's Johnny Batt.

AS GRAZIANO WON CHAMPIONSHIP. Tony Zale hangs limply over the ropes in the sixth round of his fight last night at Chicago with Rocky Graziano. Referee Behr is shown pulling Graziano off the battered fighter. A moment later in the same round, Behr stopped the bout and named Graziano winner and new middleweight champion on a technical knockout. (International)

Peggy Kirk Favored As Golf Tournament Enters Semi-Finals

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., July 17—Auburn-haired Peggy Kirk from Findlay, O., was a strong favorite today as semi-final play opened in the women's state golf tournament.

The attractive, 25-year-old shot-maker was matched with Carol Diringer of Tiffin, Toledo district champion, while Jean Hopkins of Cleveland met Mrs. Robert E. Palmer of Columbus in the other bracket.

Peggy, who bettered the women's record at the Portage Country club course by three strokes when she turned in a 69 on Monday's qualifying round, won an easy 6 and 5 victory yesterday over Claire Doran of Cleveland.

Firing a two-under-par 36 for the lowest score of the day in the opening nine, Miss Kirk had four birdies and was three under par for the 13 holes played.

Her semi-final opponent, Miss Diringer, advanced by scoring an impressive 8 and 6 victory over Rosann Shaffer of Toledo after carding a one-under-par 37 for the first nine.

Miss Hopkins, Cleveland champion, downed Mrs. Eva Shorb Weiskopf of Massillon, 5 and 3, blasting the comeback attempt of the former Akron district champion who has not participated in tournament play for several years.

Erratic with her short-iron game on the outward nine, the Clevelander rallied to win the match on the 15th after taking three holes in a row.

Mrs. Palmer, five times winner of the Rhode Island title, had little trouble with Cincinnati's Nancy Porter, taking a 6 and 5 decision. The blond Columbus competitor won the first three holes with par golf and was four strokes in front at the end of nine holes.

looks like part of the fowl's tail. Growing on the third "odd" leg is another complete foot. Thus, the rooster has three legs and four feet.

The yearling which is in perfect health was brought into the produce company about a week ago. Already he has taken over the poultry house and has been affectionately named "Paul." The rooster is a little sassy, but maybe he had an inferiority complex when he was out in his home flock which caused him to develop this trait.

The Wolcott brothers, Frank, Paul and Louis, have grown up in the chicken business, a business which has been handed down over a period of 60 years, and never before have they set eyes upon such a freak.

"I'm going to keep him," Frank said. He has had an offer already to exhibit the chicken at a county fair, but he will probably keep the rooster just for a pet.

A possible explanation of the unusual bird is that the chicken may have been hatched from a double yolked egg, the brothers said.

FINAL PLEA BY MARSHALL SAVES FOREIGN AID PLAN

Appeal Stays Hand of Economy-Minded House Committee.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—An eleventh hour plea by Secretary of State Marshall was reported today to have rescued almost the entire $1,475,000,000 foreign aid program from the economy knife poised over it by the house appropriations committee.

Committee members told a reporter that as the result of a personal appeal by Marshall to Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and other G.O.P. leaders the group has agreed tentatively to:

1. Approve the full $400,000,000 asked by President Truman to carry out the Greek-Turkish aid program.

2. Grant "substantially all" of the $350,000,000 requested for relief in liberated nations.

3. Provide the army with most of the $725,000,000 it has sought for relief and administrative work in occupied countries. One committee member said the committee will recommend "in the neighborhood of $500,000,000" with the understanding that the army can return early next year for more if needed. The entire $725,000,000 was for use until next June 30.

VOTES

Deranian will serve as chief counsel in the investigation. He replaces Jack W. Hardy.

Hardy told reporters last week that votes had been bought in West Virginia for $2 or a bottle of whisky—some times both.

The Kansas City primary which was the basis for Kem's resolution involved the defeat of Roger Slaughter, incumbent Democratic house member from Missouri's Fifth district, by Enos Axtell. Axtell, who had President Truman's blessing, lost the general election to Albert L. Reeves Jr., a Republican.

HANDFUL OF STOCKS EXHIBIT STRENGTH

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 17—A handful of special stocks exhibited quiet strength in today's market while many leaders held to a narrow and uncertain course.

Blocks of low-quoted issues kept volume about in line with that of Wednesday although slowdowns were plentiful. Moderate irregularity prevailed near the fourth hour.

New 1947 highs were touched by Chrysler, United Fruit and Standard Oil of Ohio. Gar Wood preferred, on the other hand, dropped several points to a low for the year as directors omitted a dividend due at this time. An extra payment lifted Bell and Howell and a jump in net buoyed Worthington pump. Ahead at intervals were Pfizer, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Great Northern Railway, International Telephone, Allied Chemical and J. C. Penney.

Occasional stumblers were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, International Harvester, American Telephone, Anaconda, Kennecott, DuPont, U. S. Gypsum, Owens-Illinois, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway and Southern Pacific.

LEGAL NOTICE

Said assessment is by the foot front on the lots and lands to be charged therewith and available for the inspection and examination of all persons interested therein.

Objections to such estimated assessment must be in writing, and must be filed in the office of said clerk within two weeks after the expiration of this notice, to-wit five weeks after the date hereof.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"I CAN begin to read this very minute," I told Mary, bringing up a chair opposite hers.

And from that minute, I got little respite in reading aloud the who dunit I had picked out for my experiment in keeping her thoughts away from the suspense attendant upon the expected message from Harriet Braithwaite.

Her interest seemed almost avid, and I put forth every ounce of effort in me to make the reading dramatic and interest-holding. Occasionally I stopped with a suggestion for transforming some one of the bits of action into a play, and soon Mary also was looking for bits. In the background, Katharine kept close watch over us, and every little while she would call: "Time out," and give Mary a drink of water or orange juice, adjust the pillows behind her back, and chat with both of us for a minute or two.

I knew, of course, what she was doing—easing the strain on my voice from continued reading—and was correspondingly grateful. But Mary was distinctly restless at the interruptions.

It seemed to me at times that the day never would end, but whenever that thought arose, I scored myself savagely for my selfishness. The thing Katharine and I so sorely had dreaded had been conquered for the time being. Mary's face was no longer drawn into lines of horror, her eyes no longer mirrored stark fear.

Hours Like Eternity

The hours wound themselves into eternity, and the familiar routine of the household followed its course. Olina brought Faith home from the nursery school, and Katharine asked Mary if she wished to see my small daughter again. Mary promptly gave an affirmative answer, but during the little girl's visit, while cordial and affectionate, she did not display the exuberance of the day before.

I knew the answer, and was sure Katharine did also, as she took Faith into the sitting room, saying that they would have a good visit there while I went on reading. Mary was using my reading of the whodunit as a narcotic. While she was listening to it, she could forget her awful terror.

Katharine ordered an early dinner for Mary, and a "snack" for Faith, explaining in whispers that the "family" would have dinner in the sitting room, once Dr. Twitchell had made his call and Mary had been sent into the dreamless slumber she so craved.

Ate Little

But Mary ate very little food at dinner, although she drank three cups of coffee, one after the other. She patently was anxious to get back to my reading of the mystery novel, but I was relieved to see that when Noel came in for his evening visit, she was genuinely delighted to see him, and "put on her act" for his benefit with such success that at the end of the visit he appeared to be in the traditional seventh heaven.

"She's really better, isn't she?" he asked me, when I was showing him out.

"Yes, she really is," I told him, hoping fervently that the next eighteen hours would prove me a truth-teller.

With a feeling of furriness on my tongue, I went back to my reading aloud, continued it up to the moment that Katharine, summoned by Dicky to the sitting room, came back with Dr. Twitchell in tow. She evidently had explained my ruse to the wise old physician, for he made no comment at all as I laid the book aside with a murmured comment to Mary: "Tomorrow we'll finish it."

"Tomorrow, ah-h!" she breathed, and shuddered, as her fear encompassed her again.

Then she turned to Dr. Twitchell, with a patently forced smile.

A Keen Look

"Going to put me to sleep again?" she asked, and he gave her a keen look before he answered her.

"Yes, unless you feel that you can go to sleep without one of my 'bread pills,'" he told her with an indulgent smile.

"Heavens, no," she exclaimed. "I'm as jittery as five cats! Please give me an extra strong one tonight. I don't want to waken until after the out-of-town mail has been delivered."

"I think I can guarantee that," Dr. Twitchell said, and after checking on her pulse and temperature, he gave her a pellet and supervised the swallowing of it.

"No matter what message comes," he told us later in the sitting room while Katharine put Mary to bed, "do not let her know it has arrived until after I reach here."

Dicky came back from ushering him to the elevator with a sober face.

"The old doc's evidently mighty nervous over what may happen if Harriet wires the wrong thing tomorrow morning," he said gloomily.
